WALL STREET STOCKS TURN REACTIONARY NEAR CLOSE

Banks Call Between $35,- 000,000 and $50,000,-
000 in Loans and Rates
Advance to 10 Per Cent.

FINAL QUOTATIONS IRREGULARLY LOWER

Meeting of Federal Reserve
Board Advisory Council
Also Influence—Market's
Course Irregular.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK. Sept. 17.—Ten per cent call money, combined with the possibility of an adverse market development at the meeting of the Federal Reserve Board Advisory Council, in session today, turned the course of stock prices reactionary after several attempts had been made to bring about a general rally. Prices bounded upward at the start, turned heavy before mid-day when banks began calling loans, rebounded in the early afternoon when fresh news of a demonstration started in the Public Utilities and then sold off again in the last hour. Final quotations were irregularly lower, with a long list of popular shares showing net declines of 2 to 6 points.

Call money renewed at 7 1/2 per cent, advanced to 8, 9 and finally 10 as banks withdrew between $35,000,000 and $50,000,000 on top of similar withdrawals yesterday. The stringency was attributed to the fact that the Federal Reserve Board instead of granting the United States Government a credit by placing funds at its disposal allowed member banks to participate in the loan, which had the same effect as a cut of Government subsidies in taking money from the market. Time money rates held around 9 per cent.

Some Strong Spots.

A few stocks moved against the general downward trend. Columbian Carbon was run up 12 points to 25. Foster Wheeler common and preferred each advanced more than 5 points to new high records. Simmons and American Car also showed consistent strength.

American and foreign power, which ran up 4 1/2 points in the early afternoon, lost all but a fraction of its gain. Public Service of New Jersey retained 5 points of its extreme gain of 6 1/2. American Power & Light ran up 4 1/2 and back 3 and American Telephone advanced and fell 3.

Westinghouse Electric showed a decline of 6 1/2. Wright Aeronautical, American Machine & Foundry 4 1/2. May Department Stores 4 1/2, and Commercial Investment Trust and General Electric 4 1/2 each. Such recent favorites as U. S. Steel common, radio, Standard Oil of New Jersey, Montgomery Ward, Worthington Pump and National Lead closed 3 to 4 points lower.

Wheeling Back Dividend.

The Allegheny Corporation, the Van Sweringen Holding Co., and the Nickel Plate, also controlled by the same interests, are the chief beneficiaries of the action of the Wheeling & Lake Erie in ordering a dividend of $2.50 a share on the 1 cent prior. Men preferred stock on account of arrears. The Allegheny Corporation, the Ward of 76,225 shares of the issue and the Nickel Plate some 38,298 shares, now in the hands of trustees, on which the dividend will net $1,653,227 and $490,751 respectively to those companies. This payment will reduce arrears as of June 28 to about $5.50 a share on the issue, which incidentally retains the right to control the directors until such back payments have been reduced to less than $35 a share.

Gold Is Bought.

People's exchanges moved with rather narrow and irregular limits. Sterling cables held fairly steady around 14.54 11-16. London dispatches reported that American banks had purchased $3,500,000 of the $4,000,000 of African gold sold in London today, with most taken by the Bank of England. A shipment of $1,000,000 in gold, purchased in the London open market last Tuesday, arrived here today. Commodity markets were mixed. Cotton futures closed practically unchanged. Wheat advanced 1/2 cent a bushel. Corn advanced about a cent a bushel.

Plenty of Dough.

Chief Prosecutor James P. Costello yesterday informed the Court he would call as a witness Jack B. Yellin, who, Costello asserted, had acted as an intermediary to arrange a meeting between Alexander Pantages, husband of the defendant, and John Contero, defense attorney. The prosecutor quoted Yellin as saying, "Contero intimated in his office that it is very easy to distinguish between them. If you wish to, but that there is no occasion for distinguishing; that the trial daily."

CHIEF DEFENDER OF G. O. P. TARIFF

DAVID A. REED,
U. S. Senator From Pennsylvania.

MRS. PANTAGES, ON STAND, DENIES SHE WAS DRINKING

Testifies She Had Taken
No Intoxicants the Day
Her Automobile Killed
Japanese.

By the Associated Press.

LOS ANGELES. Cal., Sept. 17.—Mrs. Lois Pantages, on trial for second degree murder as a result of the death in an automobile collision of Jiro Rokumoto, Japanese, took the stand in her defense today.

"I did not have a single drink or intoxicating liquor the day of the accident," she testified in a calm voice to one of the first questions asked by her chief counsel, Max Steuer.

The State had held Mrs. Pantages responsible for Rokumoto's death, which occurred a few days after her automobile collided with his last June, alleging she was intoxicated at the time of the accident.

"I was not drunk," Mrs. Pantages testified. "Just before the crash, I tried desperately to turn the wheel of my car to avoid hitting Rokumoto's. I turned it so hard, I tried hard as possible to get into the middle of the road. Half way to Serrano street, my car on my right tooled its horn and pulled over to my left. I was at the intersection when Rokumoto's car turned left."

Mrs. Pantages, wife of a theatrical magnate, is accused of driving her automobile into Rokumoto's car while she was intoxicated. Defense witnesses have testified Rokumoto turned his car into the path of Mrs. Pantages' machine without warning.

Henry Lee, a rancher, said the Japanese made a lefthand turn without signaling and added that Mrs. Pantages' heavy car demolished the smaller vehicle. Other witnesses sought to identify the driver of a third car that some said forced Mrs. Pantages' automobile to the left side of the street.

To Show Records.

Taking cognizance of asserted charges that a hung jury was certain to appear, the Rev. Robert Shuler, militarist pastor, to appear in court today with letters and records upon which the minister said, he partly based his allegations. Shuler made his accusations in a radio speech Sunday night and he repeated them in part yesterday before a committee composed of three members of the Bar Association.

Shuler said he had not charged jury tampering or corruption and insisted his radio accusations were based on information he maintained reached him from an unidentified source. Shuler said his informant said one of the jurors had a questionable mental attitude toward liquor and women. Other information Shuler attributed to another minister, the Rev. Gustav Briegler, who has been attending the trial daily.

FORMER STRIKER DENIES BEING IN GASTONIA MOB

One of 14 Accused of Kidnapping Leaders Testifies He Was at Work During Trouble.

QUIT UNION OVER FREE LOVE, NEGROES

Says 'They Taught Us There Was No God and to Overthrow the Government.'

By the Associated Press.

CHARLOTTE, N. C., Sept. 17.—Carl Holloway, former striker, and one of the 14 men accused of having been involved in the kidnapping of three men during disturbances the night of Sept. 9, denied today that he was in the mob or had any connection with it.

He testified in his own defense at the hearing being conducted before Judge Thomas J. Shaw.

Holloway quit work April 2, when the National Textile Workers Union called a strike at the Loray Cotton Mill in Gastonia. He was for a time picket captain for the union, but later returned to the mill.

Asked by Solicitor John G. Carpenter why he had quit the union, Holloway said that it was "because of free love, association with Negroes and religion."

"What did they teach you?" Holloway was asked by Plummer Stewart, defense counsel.

"They taught us there was no God, to do away with marriage laws, and overthrow the Government," he replied.

"What did they say about the Government?"

"Some said throw it out and some said to sweep it out." Holloway was told of having a fight with union members because a telegram urging connection with Negroes was stolen.

Several Loray mill employees, including the timekeeper, testified that Holloway was at work at the mill all night on the night of the trouble.

Several other Loray employees were called as defense witnesses and swore that A. G. Morehead, superintendent, who late yesterday admitted being at the Ferry Lodge home in Gastonia when the three men were kidnapped, was at the mill at home while it was claimed that he was with the mob that took the three men to Cabarrus County. Morehead yesterday testified that he attempted to prevent the mob doing any violence.

Orderly Crowd at Woman's Funeral; Strike Fails to Materialize.

By the Associated Press.

BESSEMER CITY, N. C., Sept. 17.—Mrs. Ella May Wiggins, victim of the mob, in whose memory Communists and National Textile Workers Union leaders called a one-day strike for peace, was buried in the local cemetery before an orderly crowd estimated at several hundred persons. Three labor organizers and a Baptist minister spoke and a solo song written by the dead woman was sung. This constituted the services.

Mill managers and operators asserted that the strike called last night by Bill Dunne, secretary of the Communist party in America and Southern representative of the party, and Hugo Oehler, Southern organizer for the National Textile Workers' Union, had failed to materialize. Labor leaders declined to comment on the situation.

60 Strike Sympathizers at Marion, N. C., Indicted for Rioting.

MARION, N. C., Sept. 17.—The McDowell County grand jury yesterday indicted 60 strike sympathizers as a result of disturbances during the recent strike at the Clinchfield and Marion Manufactures Mills. The 60 are charged with rioting and rebellion.

Alfred L. Hoffman, Southern organizer for the United Textile Workers of America, was indicted on charges of inciting to riot and rebellion. The grand jury refused to return true bills against four strikers arrested on similar charges.

The charges grew out of a riot Aug. 31 in which Sheriff Adkins and several deputies were driven from the Clinchfield Mill village by a mob of strike sympathizers. Troops were called to Marion to preserve order and remained there until last Friday. The strike was settled by arbitration.

GEN. LYTHE BROWN NAMED CHIEF OF ARMY ENGINEERS

President, in Making Appointment, Outlines Plans for Reorganization to Fix Responsibility.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 17.—President Hoover today appointed Brigadier-General Lythe Brown as Chief of Army Engineers, to succeed Lieutenant-General Edgar Jadwin.

Brown will receive the rank of Major-General for a term of four years from date of acceptance of the post.

Brown served in the Spanish-American War with the engineers in the Santiago, Cuba, campaign and in the battle of San Juan Hill and the siege of that city.

He also has held many posts throughout the country with the Engineer Corps.

He was born at Nashville, Tenn., Nov. 22, 1872, and was appointed from that city to the Military Academy in 1894 from which he was graduated in 1898.

Corps to Be Reorganized.

President Hoover, in announcing Brown's selection, said that the vast amount of inland waterway work now confronting the Army Engineers necessitated important alterations in the organization of that corps so that there would be more definite responsibility and more continuity in the prosecution of such public works than has obtained heretofore.

Mr. Hoover added that an army engineer would be authorized under the direction of Brown to have control of the construction of the whole flood works in the Lower Mississippi River and that an additional engineer would be appointed to have control of the flood relief and other work on the tributaries including the Ohio, the Missouri and the Upper Mississippi and the Illinois River.

Consideration also is being given to the appointment of a third engineer to have charge of the work on the Great Lakes and the probable work to be done on the St. Lawrence River to provide a gateway to the Atlantic Ocean from the lakes.

Greater Than Panama Canal.

It was stated that the amount of work to be done during the next three years on each of these projects was greater than the whole construction of the Panama Canal.

Mr. Hoover disclosed his intention of centralizing responsibility and centralizing prosecution of inland waterways improvements in the locality where the work is to be done instead of in Washington. This would mean that the three engineer officers to be designated would be in charge of the three separate divisions in the respective areas.

This does not mean, it was pointed out, that he will "discuss debts or the terms of that kind" at Washington. His meeting with Hoover, MacDonald said, "is merely to celebrate the anniversary of the program made by the conversations that have taken place, and the establishment of a relationship which, if they succeeded, has not existed between the two countries since 1812."

MacDonald could hardly have implied more clearly that whereas the United States looks to Great Britain in determining the size of its fleet, Great Britain surveys the fleets of other nations, when he said:

"The elementary starting point was the policy common to all the governments that the British Admiralty, in devising its building program, did not take America into account at all."

That phrase will explain the observed fact that the understanding with the United States has evoked far more enthusiasm across the Atlantic, as evidenced in press comments than it had in London.

OFFICIAL STATEMENT ON NEGOTIATIONS

By the Associated Press.

LONDON, Sept. 17.—An authoritative statement on the position of the Anglo-American naval negotiations follows:

"A total cruiser strength of 50 is desired for Great Britain. The cruisers however are divided into two categories, namely eight-inch gun and six-inch gun carriers. Britain maintains that its requirements compel it to divide its 50 cruisers into 15 eight-inch and 35 six-inch cruisers, making a total tonnage of 339,000."

The United States proposal is for 21 eight-inch and 15 six-inch cruisers, but these latter vessels would have a larger tonnage than the corresponding British cruisers.

"The present American proposal is that they would wish 21 eight-inch gun cruisers, which assumes a displacement for those of 146,000 tons. This leaves us 35 six-inch gun cruisers with a tonnage of 192,000."

"We want to have 15 eight-gun cruisers, which assumes a displacement for those of 146,000 tons. This leaves us 35 six-inch gun cruisers with a tonnage of 192,000."

SHOOTS AT RUNAWAY STEER AND WOUNDS PASSER-BY

Kansas City Policeman Kills Animal in Street After Four Persons Are Hurt.

By the Associated Press.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Sept. 17.—A runaway steer today caused considerable excitement in the center of Kansas City's downtown business section.

W. R. Martin Jr., a traffic patrolman on Main street, held up his hand, set his semaphore at "stop," and jumped aside to evade a charge. Martin started in pursuit and a crowd followed the officer. The patrolman finally fired, but the bullet ricocheted from the animal and wounded Charles S. Davis, a real estate man, in the hip.

J. S. Taylor, news dealer, was bruised when he was knocked down by the animal, which also fell another man and a woman.

A plate glass window of a nearby clothing store crashed to the sidewalk, but another shot from Martin's weapon finally killed the steer.

Says She Was Forced to Take Money to Provide for Her Family.

CLEVELAND, Oct. 17.—Mrs. Viola M. Warner, 43 years old, for 24 years a teller at a branch of the Union Trust Co., was under arrest today charged with embezzling $33,000 over a period of six years.

She admitted the charge, police said, pleading family financial needs forced her to take the money. Her husband, Burt Warner, an automobile salesman, admitted knowledge of the thefts, according to police, and he was held for investigation.

HELD FOR ASSAULT

Deputy Thomas Quinn Charged With Intent to Kill Men Attacked in Saloon.

DENIES ATTACK
AFTER SOBERING

He Furnishes $10,000 Bail Telephone Employees, Seriously Wounded, Accuse Him.

Deputy Constable Thomas Quinn answered two charges of assault to kill growing out of the shooting of two Bell telephone men, apparently without provocation, in a saloon at 2518 Cass Avenue shortly before noon yesterday.

Mrs. Julia Quintieri, 29 years old, an electrician, 418 Fillmore street, was shot through the back and chest, is still in a dangerous condition. His companion, Marshall White, a foreman, 4249 Bond avenue, East St. Louis, shot at the scene, expected to recover, both are at City Hospital.

White improved somewhat following a blood transfusion yesterday afternoon. Surgeons think no other transfusion will be necessary, although 17 fellow employees have volunteered to give their blood.

Quinn, who was too drunk to make a statement when arrested in the saloon, refused to discuss the shooting, except to deny that he shot the men. However, he was the only man in the saloon besides Sweet, White and the bartender, David Kelly, it was said. The revolver which Quinn used had been fired twice. The bartender professed not to have witnessed the shooting, although he heard the shots from a back room.

At the point of gun he was taken to an apartment only a few blocks from the Holdreith home, where he was blinded with adhesive tape and manacled with heavy chains to a bed.

In the meantime negotiations for the payment of a ransom were begun with the elder Holdreith. No trace has been found of the third member of the kidnap party.

St. Louis in Record.

"You cannot," he repeated, "justify a 20 per cent ad valorem duty on shoes because there is a 10 per cent duty on hides."

Borah placed in the record a statement by 11 large shoe corporations supporting his position.

The Senator from Pennsylvania referred to the fact that imports are increasing. Why are they increasing? Every manufacturer of shoes knows why. Just at present they are increasing in contemplation of the imposition of this duty. That only began after the tariff bill came under public consideration.

HOOVER'S LETTER, REQUESTING RESPECT FOR LAW, BROADCAST

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 17.—President Hoover said in a letter read over the radio tonight that familiarity with and respect for law is essential to the welfare of the country.

The letter was addressed to Gurney E. Newlin, Chicago, president of the American Bar Association, and was read over the Columbia Broadcast Co. chain as part of a nation-wide observance of Constitution week.

"It is with great interest," the President wrote, "that I note the work which the American Bar Association is doing in disseminating information relative to our national Constitution—its history and purposes.

"Familiarity with, and respect for, our national legislation which does not mean anything to the farmer, but is a distinct disadvantage to all the people of the United States, farmers included, and is also a disadvantage to the economic development of the shoe industry."

Former Denver Jurist Ordered by Supreme Court to Return Salary Drawn During Contest.

By the Associated Press.

DENVER, Sept. 17.—Ben Lindsey, former Judge of the Denver Juvenile Court, must pay to Mrs. Cora M. Graham, widow of Royal R. Graham, approximately $2600, the Colorado Supreme Court decided yesterday.

The money represents salary drawn by Judge Lindsey from Jan. 13, 1925, to Sept. 9, 1926, during which time Lindsey was contesting the election of Graham as his successor.

While the Graham case was still pending, Graham was found dead in the gas-filled kitchen of his home.

Later it was decided that Graham had been legally elected, and Mrs. Graham brought suit to recover the salary drawn by Lindsey up to the time of her husband's death.

KIDNAPED STUDENT CHAINED TO BED
FIVE DAYS, FOUND

Detroit Man's Father Had Paid $5000 Ransom but Abductors' Arrest Delayed Release.

By the Associated Press.

DETROIT, Mich., Sept. 17.—After having been held prisoner since last Wednesday by kidnappers who blindfolded him and chained him to a bed, Matthew Holdreith, 24 years old, son of a restaurant proprietor and a student in Notre Dame University at South Bend, Ind., was found late yesterday, and released by police. The report of the abduction had been made previously to the police.

Inspector Henry J. Garvin, head of the police homicide squad, said he learned Holdreith's father paid $5000 to his son's abductors Saturday. The youth's release was prevented by the inadvertent capture by police of two of the kidnappers as they left the rendezvous where the older Holdreith was said to have turned over the money.

Edward Wilds and Frank Hofer, named by Garvin as two of the kidnappers, were taken by police Saturday night after a running gun fight with a police scout car which was seeking a stolen taxicab. Police said at that time did not know of the kidnapping. Wilds and Hofer admitted last night, however, after the young man's release, that they were members of the band that kidnapped him and that more than $4000 in cash they were carrying had been taken.

Two newspaper reporters used to send single copies through the mails, bearing the name of John Gader, Ruegg, Mo., were found in his pockets. Ruegg is the name used by the Postoffice Department for the community near the bridge known more familiarly as Fort Belknap.

Frank said he examined the car and found the pint whisky bottle was on a stretch two miles in length after laying across a 15-mile long strip, reaching from a point four miles north of Santa Paula almost to the Ventura avenue below.

The flames were pushing forward on a stretch two miles in length after laying across a 15-mile long strip, reaching from a point four miles north of Santa Paula almost to the Ventura avenue below.

The fire, which was started yesterday by a break in an electric power line, swept through Santa Paula canyon last night after it had been fed to seething pitch by the oil baptizer side of the mountain. About 250 residents of the canyon area were ordered out of their homes as a precautionary measure.

Within an hour after the fire reached the top of Sulphur Mountain a tank containing 11,000 barrels of oil boiled over from the heat and spilled its inflammable contents toward the valley below.

Damage was estimated at more than $2,000,000 early this morning.

Another severe fire, fanned by a stiff wind, blackened several thousand acres between Sage and Temecula in Riverside County. Pete Spadoni, a cattlemen of Sage, was arrested and charged with starting the fire. The complainant was filed by a woman who said she saw Spadoni touch a match to the brush.

For a time Temecula, an old Indian town and one of the first white settlements in Riverside County, was seriously threatened but efforts of 100 men turned the brush.

When Mrs. Mary Watkins, 64, 1013 Bond avenue, East St. Louis, hurried into the street near her home last night to carry a small boy to safety, she was struck by an automobile driven by William F. Rushing, 819 North Twenty-second street, East St. Louis. She was treated for cuts and bruises at St. Mary's Hospital and taken home.

LIGHT BULB REPAIR SCHEME TRIED OUT; 'INVENTOR' HELD

Expert Merely Hits Glass on Hand He Shows Officer Who Read Advertisement.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 17.—A repair scheme, where the world's first collection of reptiles will be kept in most modern captive surroundings is planned for the National Zoological Park.

Architectural features of reptile houses in European zoos, recently surveyed in detail by Dr. William M. Morris, director, will be incorporated in the structure, which is scheduled for completion next spring.

A two-fold objective is sought in the design, natural surroundings for the creatures and exhibition to the greatest public advantage.

A man wanted to handle St. Louis, repairing burned-out electric light bulbs.

Detective Sergeant James Feeters read from the classified columns of a newspaper, "Professional," $1500 investment, $100 a month.

The "inventor" also showed at the hotel this morning and found a 36-year-old "inventor" and a 60-year-old machinist who said he had paid the "inventor" $1200 for rights or Portland, Ore., and $2000 more for rights for the State of Oregon. Then he had borrowed money to buy the national rights, he related. He and the inventor were here to sell St. Louis rights.

At Deer Street Police Station Sergeant Feeters asked for a demonstration. A small extension cord was connected with a light bulb with a brook filament. The bulb was struck against the left hand until the broken wires completed the circuit and were welded by the resulting heat.

LANDSLIDE STOPS WORK ON FLOOD DAM

Entire Side of Mountain in California Lowered Eight Feet.

By the Associated Press.

AZUSA, Cal., Sept. 17.—Construction work on the foundation abutments for the $25,000,000 San Gabriel flood-control dam temporarily was at a standstill today and several months' work had been set aside by a slide of 100,000 cubic yards of earth and rock from a unusual head of the summer.

height of 400 feet into the west abutment foundation pit.

The landslide roared down over shoulders of the mountain, and crashed into the pit, causing a lowering of the entire mountain side from eight to 10 feet, with consequent damage to water and power lines.

Men and machinery and the workings escaped being buried through the alertness of geologists and engineers, who last Sunday predicted the slide.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Sept. 17.—The Greek Patriarch Vassilios, head of the Eastern Christians, is seriously ill here. Physicians attributed his illness to his advanced age and to general weakness after the unusual heat of the summer.

BANKER'S RECORD OF FRAUD FOUND IN BLACK SATCHEL

C. D. Waggoner Left Bag With Niece in Cheyenne Before His Arrest for $500,000 Swindle.

By the Associated Press.

CHEYENNE, Wyo., Sept. 17.—A black satchel is said to contain a record of the operations of C. D. Waggoner, Telluride, Colo., banker in his $500,000 swindle of six New York banks. It is in possession of A. D. Walton, United States District Attorney here. It was learned today.

The satchel, it was learned, was given by Waggoner to his niece, Margaret R. Jones, high school teacher here, two weeks ago when the banker passed through this city.

After Waggoner had been arrested, Miss Jones, it is understood, voluntarily took the satchel to the United States District Attorney.

Waggoner's own record of his manipulations is in the satchel, authorities here say.

MCCRACKEN OPPOSES U. S. AIR REGULATION

Commerce Department Aid's Statement Follows Suggestion by Operator for Control.

By the Associated Press.
KANSAS CITY, Mo., Sept. 17.—Discouragement of any thought of governmental regulation of air transportation lines similar to that exercised over the railroads was urged on air transport executives in session here today by William P. MacCracken, Assistant Secretary of Commerce for Aeronautics.

The railroads, MacCracken told the air executives, were not placed under governmental regulation until after 15 years of existence when "pernicious practices made it necessary."

"The new air industry," the Assistant Secretary said, "should regulate itself as far as possible and keep out of governmental control because any group of Government officers, no matter however great their ability and sincerity, can not sit in judgment upon the needs of the air industry as can the industry itself."

The Aeronautic Society's statement followed an address by Earle F. Halliburton, Duncan, Ok., president of the Southwest Air Express, who favored some effective form of regulation. Halliburton urged that the air transportation conference promptly submit to Congress for its consideration the facts that will lead to the proper amendment of the Interstate Commerce Act itself or the enactment of suitable laws to bring about that result.

After pointing out that passengers and freight rates varied with the various air lines and even varied with distance traveled on the same line, Halliburton, said that regulation had become necessary.

"The air lines have reached that stage where they should be regulated and protected by an institution similar to that of the Interstate Commerce Commission if not by the commission itself. Then the public could derive the full benefit of the fast transit afforded by air and the investors' money be secured by building up traffic and elimination of the transportation wastes that are existent among certain air lines today."

Like MacCracken, Major-General John F. O'Ryan, president of the Colonial Airways System, urged that the air lines of the country be kept out of Government control.

WATER-FRONT FIRE DAMAGES SHIP AT PORTLAND, ME.

23,000 Tons of Sulphur in Warehouse Destroyed; 18 Persons Overcome by Smoke.
By the Associated Press.

PORTLAND, Me., Sept. 17.—Authorities today were seeking the source of an oil film credited with having caused last night's $400,000 waterfront fire. The blaze destroyed a large sulphur warehouse containing 22,000 tons of the mineral damaged the collier Plymouth of Boston, burned 19 railroad freight cars and sent 18 firemen and volunteers to the hospital overcome by smoke.

Chief Oliver T. Sanborn of the Portland Fire Department said that oil floating on the water near the wharf of the Portland Terminal Co., owner of the warehouse, was ignited by a spark from a hoisting engine. Oil tanks are prohibited by law, he said, from floating oil tanks inside the harbor limits.

The Plymouth, with two life-boats destroyed, deckhouse and pilot house damaged and its portside plates scorched and bent by the heat, is anchored in the harbor. She was cut loose and nosed into midstream by two tugs as flames enveloped her superstructure.

Eleven firemen and two volunteers who were overcome by the heavy sulphur fumes were in the Maine General Hospital but none was considered in a serious condition.

$3000 FIRE IN PAINT STORE

J. M. Doellner Co., 1316 Pine Street, Suffers Damage.

Fire of undetermined origin caused $3000 loss to the T. M. Doellner Paint Co., 1316 Pine street, at 2:45 a. m. today. The three-story brick building, owned by the city, was damaged $2,000.

A two-story brick building at 1911 Carr street, used as headquarters for the Fourth Ward Democratic Club, was damaged $800 by fire at 1:40 a. m. The blaze was discovered by William Sheely, Negro caretaker, who sleeps in the building.

DIES WHEN RIDING ON WAGON

Autopsy to Determine Cause of Junk Dealer's Death.

Sam Bluestone, 64 years old, a junk dealer, of 4719A McMillan avenue, died suddenly at 8 a. m. today when riding on a wagon owned and driven by Michael Blyweiss, also a junk dealer, 4914 Page boulevard, at 2400 Hunt avenue, Pine Lawn.

An autopsy will be performed to determine the cause of death. Bluestone was injured when struck by an automobile in St. Louis County last June 7, but was thought to have recovered.

Laborer Falls Dead at Work.
Peter Holzen, a laborer, of 610 East Marceau street, fell dead this morning when at work in the plant of the Alpha Cement Co., Alpharetta, Ga. His body was taken to the Fender undertaking establishment, 744 Lemay Ferry road, where an inquest will be held tonight.

CAPABLANCA WINS CHESS PRIZE

By the Associated Press.

BUDAPEST, Sept. 17.—Jose Raul Capablanca, Cuban chess master, won first prize in the international chess tournament by defeating Dr. Vajda of Hungary in the thirteenth and final round here yesterday.

Capablanca's final point standing was 10½ won and 2½ lost, which placed him safely ahead of Rubenstein, who entered the final round in second place.

IRISH FREE STATE
CLOSING ITS JAILS

Kilmalham Among Them—
Some to Be Used as Broadcasting Stations.

By the Associated Press.
DUBLIN, Sept. 17.—The Irish Free State is shutting up prisons or using them as broadcasting stations.

The famous Kilkenny Prison was closed some time ago, and now the historic jail of Kilmalham is no longer to be used as a prison.

While word comes from the United States that the prison population there is constantly on the increase, the convict population of the Free State has dwindled from 15,500 in 1914 to 700 at present. Seven prisons now suffice for all the adult prisoners in the country.

Kilmalham was of world-wide fame in the days of the Nationalist leader Parnell, when, as the song says, "They locked the pride of Erin's Isle in dark Kilmalham jail." With Parnell were all the leaders of the old home rule movement, imprisoned as suspects by the British. Forster, Earle, Fenian prisoners were confined in it, and from it some of them made difficult escapes.

It was in Kilmalham that the Phoenix Park murderers, who in May, 1882, assassinated Lord Frederick Cavendish, Chief Secretary for Ireland, and Under-Secretary Burke, were confined and it was there that five of them, known as the "Invincibles," were executed and buried.

Nothing is yet known as to the purpose to which the Government will put the buildings, but it is said the prison will be used as a broadcasting service for the State radio. That was the final use to which St. Mary's female prison was put in Cork.

EAST SIDE VIADUCT INSPECTED

Engineers of the Terminal Railroad Association, the East St. Louis & Suburban Railway and the city of East St. Louis began a joint inspection today of the Broadway viaduct in East St. Louis to determine whether it is safe for traffic. A preliminary investigation by the city found repairs needed.

H. J. Pfeifer, chief engineer for the Terminal Railroad, after looking at the supports, said there was "nothing serious" the matter, but which crosses Eads Bridge. It was built 33 years ago.

PROBABLE DEMAND OF JAPAN AS TO CRUISER STRENGTH

Tokio Likely to Seek 70
Pct. Allotment of U. S.
Strength With 8-Inch Gun
Ships as Standard.

By the Associated Press.

TOKIO, Sept. 17.—Publication in London of an authoritative outline of the present status of the Anglo-American cruiser negotiations has focused Japanese attention on the difference in the maximums for Great Britain and the United States, and the suggested American 8-inch gun cruiser strength.

Responsible officials declined to comment on this point publicly but it was strongly indicated in high official quarters that Japan considered this the crux of her limitation problem.

Japan is likely to insist that the American strength be considered the standard by which Japan's relative strength in 8-inch gun cruisers is determined and also that to Japan be allotted 70 per cent instead of the present 60 per cent now prevailing in the battleship class.

If the British maximum of 148,800 tons of 8-inch gun cruisers were the standard, it would not be necessary for Japan to build beyond her present program, which would give her 103,400 tons of 8-inch gun cruisers before 1932, including four of the Furutaka class of 7100 tons each and eight of the Nachi class of 10,000 tons each, four of which have been completed.

Two or Four More Ships.

If Japan insists on 70 per cent of the American tonnage this would mean two 10,000-ton cruisers beyond the present program should the United States be limited to 18, and four should the United States be limited to 21.

It was authoritatively indicated that in order to gain this point Japan was ready to scrap a portion of her present 88,000 tons of smaller modern cruisers.

Yesterday's authoritative survey was received here in official quarters without surprise, since the Japanese Ambassador in London, thoroughly advised of the progress of the MacDonald-Hawes conversations, has kept the Government fully informed.

Naval Question Before Cabinet.

The Cabinet's regular meeting this morning was largely occupied with the naval question on which Admiral Takarabe, Minister of Marine, made a report. The outcome of the Cabinet's deliberations was not divulged. After the Cabinet meeting Premier Hamaguchi conferred with the Minister of Marine.

The afternoon papers published what purported to be an outline of Admiral Takarabe's statement before the Cabinet which authoritative quarters in close contact with him partially confirmed. The Minister of Marine was reported to have said that Japan was prepared to consider favorable extension of the capital ship holiday until 1936 and that Japan must consider the American first class cruiser strength, if carrying 8-inch guns, as the standard for her claim to a 70 per cent ratio.

Hence Japan would build two cruisers beyond her current program if the American limit is placed at 18 10,000-ton cruisers, or four cruisers beyond the program if the American limit is set at 21 10,000-ton cruisers.

Japan is willing to scrap approximately 17,000 tons of destroyers, leaving her 105,000 tons, grant if the American limit is fixed at 150,000 tons.

Japan is opposed to the abolition or drastic reduction of submarines, which she considers the most effective weapon against a superior fleet.

AUTO DRIVER BOARDS CAR TO 'SETTLE' WITH MOTORMAN

"You're one of these wild drivers, aren't you?" Motorman Lester Woods shouted at the driver of an automobile that cut in front of Woods' Maryland car at Ninth street yesterday.

"Get off that car and I'll show you whether I am or not," replied the driver, John Parres, 4157A Westmont place. Woods declined the invitation. At Newstead and Maryland avenues, Parres boarded the car, seized Woods and said, "Now we can settle this thing." The conductor of the car came to Woods' assistance and Parres' brother, William, a farmer, who was riding with him, joined in the melee.

Woods uncoupled the heavy iron motor controller and swung it. When the police arrived a few minutes later, John Parres was suffering from lacerations of the head, nose and ears. William had a lacerated scalp and lip. Both were treated at the city hospital and charged with disturbing the peace. Woods declined medical attention and was permitted to finish his run, after which he also was charged with peace disturbance.

Modern Woodmen Insurance Suit.

By the Associated Press.

NEVADA, Mo., Sept. 17.—Suit seeking to permanently enjoin the Modern Woodmen of America from putting into force increased insurance rates recently imposed by the head camp was filed today by L. G. Foster and W. P. Abel, two long-time members of the organization. They allege that the action is not legal and is unreasonable.

OPEN SEASON FOR WATERFOWL STARTS SEPT. 24, ENDS JAN. 7

WASHINGTON, Sept. 17.—The compromised open season for waterfowl in Missouri and Illinois will start half an hour before sunrise, the old opening date, Sept. 16, was decided upon as a compromise. New York, which has had a Sept. 24 opening date for several years, their hunting extended into the winter. The later date of Oct. 1 is the only other state with a season coinciding with that of Illinois. It was proposed, but met with so much objection that Sept. 24 was chosen.

The new opening date resulted from protests received by the conservation office from some Missouri hunters who contended that

FATAL CHICAGO AIR CRASH LAID TO UNLICENSED PILOT

Jury Also Finds Plane
Was Unworthy; Four Were Killed in Collision.

CHICAGO, Sept. 17.—One of the pilot-victims was held to be responsible by a Coroner's jury of experts for the death of three men and a woman in a mid-air collision of two airplanes over suburban Northbrook Saturday. The jury recommended closer supervision of flyers. Hearing of airports, strict enforcement of all flying laws and adoption of legislation to prevent "wild cat" flying.

The crash, in which two planes locked wings and fell, took the lives of W. Walter Meyer, veteran licensed pilot; Charles Kron, unlicensed pilot; and Mrs. Benjamin L. Bird and William Johnston Jr., passengers.

Kron was described in the verdict as an unlicensed and inexperienced pilot, flying "an unlicensed and unworthy plane." The jury held that a contributory cause of the accident was the location of "an alleged airport" the one from which Kron took off—too close to a regularly operating airport—the one at Sky Harbor.

Saved by 900-Foot Parachute Leap

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo., Sept. 17.—Everett Williams, pilot for an airplane manufacturing company, leaped to safety with a parachute late yesterday when an airplane he was testing went into a flat spin at an altitude of 8000 feet. Factory workers said a load of 1000 pounds of sand carried by the machine shifted to the tail, throwing the plane off balance.

The type that spells solid comfort... and fills an evening of reading or radio listening with a maximum of enjoyment... tailored in your choice of several rich tapestries... with deep, spring-filled, loose cushions... all moss filled. Its low, graceful build lends ornamentation to its utility value. A worthy piece... and at this unmistakably low price, a value of merit.

$50 Pull-Up Chairs

$29.50

Of solid walnut, splendidly constructed... its well-tapered arms and legs are graceful and comfortable, too. The deep, soft spring seats of webbing base and the high, well-shaped back are upholstered... in frieze, tapestry, damask and brocatelle.

$25 Jenny Lind Beds

$17.75

These quaint, but practically built beds are becoming increasingly popular... and no wonder, they possess such simple charm. This piece is of hardwood construction... in three finishes... both full and twin sizes.

DISTRACTION WINS OPENING FEATURE OF AQUEDUCT

Missouri Boxing Body Will Sponsor Title Tournament

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Sept. 17.—An elimination tournament of the world to succeed to the throne vacated by Tommy Loughran will start here Sept. 19, under the auspices of the Missouri Athletic Commission.

Bennie Ross of Buffalo meets George Manley, Denver, in the first contest. The winner is to meet Leo Lomski, and the victor in the latter bout will be matched with Mickey Walker. The ultimate winner will be recognized by the Missouri Athletic Commission as the light heavyweight champion of the world.

By the Associated Press.
AQUEDUCT RACE TRACK, N.Y., Sept. 17.—Over a good track, Distraction, carrying the Wheatley stable's silks, scored an impressive victory in the Bayshore Handicap, a seven-furlong sprint which featured the opening day here. Distraction was well played at 3 to 1. Arden Farm stable's Sun Edwin, favorite in the betting, was second and Eddie Ahearn was third.

The time was 1:24 1/5. The start was delayed by the bad actions of Eddie Ahearn. They were sent away to a fairly good start with Byrd first to show. Distraction and Eddie Ahearn and Balko last and next to last. Before the field had gone a furlong Eddie Ahearn was up fighting for the lead, but the early effort told on him and Distraction quickly disposed of him. The Wheatley colt drew away in the stretch to win by five lengths. Sun Edwin came fast and was second by four lengths. Eddie Ahearn was third and Balko fourth. The race was worth $24,497.

REFeree's LICENSE REVOKED, FOUR JAILED AFTER RING RIOT

By the Associated Press.

NEWARK, N. J., Sept. 17.—John H. Scott, Jr., chief boxing inspector of New Jersey, today permanently revoked the referee's license of Danny Savage, whose decision of a draw in a prize fight between Vince Dundee and Abe Bain last night precipitated a riot at the Newark Velodrome.

A few weeks ago while visiting his home here "Bill," as he is known by everyone in Wilkinsburg, stated emphatically that he would retire from baseball if he won the nomination for Tax Collector. While speaking in the highest terms of his employers, the owners of the St. Louis Cardinals, McKechnie also left no doubt in the minds of his listeners that he was tired of being buffeted about in baseball as has been his experience.

He frankly stated that he wanted to be at home with his family.

McKechnie never criticizes, but he was vehement in stating that he had not always been fairly dealt with and that he would be glad to get out of baseball if he could find some employment where the remuneration was satisfactory. Job Worth $10,000 Annually.

The office of Tax Collector in the Borough of Wilkinsburg is a fee sinecure. Roughly estimating the income of the Tax Collector in past years, the annual salary will run around $10,000. The term of office is four years.

Nomination on the Republican ticket in Wilkinsburg, as in this city, is tantamount to election, the Democrat vote in Western Pennsylvania being almost negligible.

Opposed to Manager McKechnie are Walter K. Elder, the present Tax Collector, who is seeking re-election; John G. Miles, C. E. Wolfson and Albert Berg.

McKechnie has made a lone fight for the nomination. He took the burden of the campaign entirely upon himself and his family. Mrs. McKechnie, his wife, has been quietly working for her husband and the votes of many women will be cast for "Bill" today through her untiring efforts.

Practically every candidate opposing McKechnie has been nominated by some organization.

Mrs. McKechnie today said: "We are hoping for the best news tonight. Everyone in Wilkinsburg is friendly with Bill. Politics is something a little strange to our family. We don't want to make any wild claims but we feel that Mr. McKechnie has as good a chance to be nominated as any of the other candidates."

"Of course we want him to win. Then we can have him all the time. He has not had a bed of roses in baseball and his worries have been plenty."

Not even the oldest Wilkinsburg politician is willing to risk a prediction today as to who would win.

T. H. Brown scheduled double-header at Philadelphia this afternoon was rained out and the two clubs will play the games tomorrow. The Cardinals have an open date today, and also will be idle tomorrow and Thursday. Brooklyn comes Friday for a two-game series.

BROWNS' DOUBLE BILL RAINED OUT; CARDINALS IDLE

T. H. Brown scheduled double-header at Philadelphia this afternoon was rained out and the two clubs will play the games tomorrow. The Cardinals have an open date today, and also will be idle tomorrow and Thursday. Brooklyn comes Friday for a two-game series.

BOSTON WINS FINAL FROM WHITE SOX, SCORE 6-4

By the Associated Press.

BOSTON, Sept. 17.—Boston defeated the Chicago White Sox, 6 to 4, here today in the last game of the season between the teams.

No Longer Ring Champions, But They Can Still Punish--The Mike!

Jack Dempsey, broadcasting at Milwaukee (Wis.), telling of his promotion plans in Chicago, where he has been licensed as a promoter. Watching him is Jim Corbett, who has been appearing at a Milwaukee theater. In the ring these former fighters each represented the peak in opposite schools of fighting. Dempsey won by the power of his punch. Corbett by his extreme cleverness.

ROBINS BEAT OUT CUBS IN FIRST, 8 TO 7

By a Special Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

CHICAGO, Sept. 17.—"Hope deferred" etc. The Cubs seemed to have the first game of thir afternoon's double-header with Brooklyn in the sack, but Mike Clevengroek weakened in the ninth and Moore plunked Fred Blase for a single with the bases filled and Brooklyn won the game, 8 to 7.

The Robins made a six-run lead for Vance in the third inning by clouting Hal Carlson, but the Cubs came back with three in the fourth.

In the fifth the bases were filled with two out when Cuyler stepped to the plate and made the 1929 championship, seemed assured.

The lead ended until the ninth when dive events ensued. Gilbert singled off Clevengroek and with two down Blase, a pinch hitter, walked. Cvngroek cut loose a wild pitch and Lake was summoned.

The club had announced that beginning yesterday at 12:01 a.m. mail requests for reservations would be received. Immediately after that hour thousands of fans dropped letters into the mails. The orders were in such volume that the club engaged a clerical force of 25 men and women and rented a nearby vacant factory to handle the hand.

After more than 25,000 letters had been received, most of them requesting two tickets, the maximum to one person, the club lost interest as the capacity of Shibe Park was already far over-subscribed. The reserved seat capacity of the park is less than 27,000. During the day it was estimated that requests were received for approximately 25,000 tickets.

JOHN CARROLL COACH WITHDRAWS CHARGES AGAINST OHIO ALUMNI

By the Associated Press.

CLEVELAND, O., Sept. 17.—A statement absolving Fred L. Schweitzer, former president of the Ohio State University alumni, of any connection with alleged efforts to induce Ted Rosequist, football star at John Carroll University, Cleveland, to transfer to Ohio State, was made yesterday by Ralph Vince, Carroll coach.

Last week Vince charged that Schweitzer and Harold Hall of Toledo, a senior at Ohio State, promoted Rosequist free board and room, a job and tuition if he would transfer to the larger school.

EARNSHAW LIKELY TO BE ATHLETICS' ACE IN WORLD SERIES

ROOT AND BUSH
APT TO BOTHER
MACK'S HITTERS,
BABE RUTH SAYS

By Babe Ruth

(Copyright, 1929.)

NEW YORK, Sept. 17.—With the Cubs and the Athletics in baseball interest is now beginning to turn towards the world series. Personally, I'm not sure yet which club I'll be in the series. They both have great outings, and it's a little hard to decide which one has the edge. Certain things about the A's I like—and there are certain features about Chicago's play which seems to give the team an edge.

BABE RUTH. Babe Ruth discusses pitching strength so often in world series play that it has come to be looked upon as the deciding factor in a series. And usually it is. However, a lot of time pitching gets credit or discredit where other things are really responsible. Take last year's series, for instance.

The general impression was that the St. Louis pitching was very bad and the Yanks very good. Which is only partly true. If you look at the records you'll see that the Cardinal pitching was all that was expected. What really happened is that a couple of our boys were on a hitting spree—and going like that they would have smacked the daylights out of any hurler who happened to face them. What won the series for us was the hitting of the Yankees, plus some very good pitching by the Yankee stars.

Must Watch Southpaws.

The most interesting thing to watch about the coming series will be the effectiveness of the Athletics' left-handed pitching. The Cubs, with a great array of right-hand hitters, are supposed to be favored for any left-hander. But I'm telling you now that there are left-handers and then there are Grove and Walberg. Those two birds are likely to bother any club, any time.

You may remember that in 1927 the Pittsburgh Pirates were supposed to be death to left-handers, too. But Herbie Pennock went in against them and held them hitless for seven and a third innings and won easily.

However, there's this other angle about pitching, too. I know from observation and experience that the A's are weakest against side-arm, right-hand, fast-ball pitching. The Cubs have three pitchers of this type—Root, Bush and Mack. Just how good these three are I don't know, for I have had little chance to see the Cubs in action. However, I do know this, that the are of the type which is apt to bother the A's most.

Can't Overlook Earnshaw.

It's my own individual hunch that in discussing and figuring on Athletic pitchers, the experts have paid so much attention to Grove and Walberg, that they've completely overlooked another chapter. And that's Earnshaw, the big fast-ball right-hander, who has been Connie's ace in the hole all season. I've got a sneaking hunch that big George will be one of the real standouts of the series. He has plenty of stuff and plenty of nerve. And he's cool as an oyster under fire. I wouldn't be surprised to see him win one, and possibly two games during the series.

Now, before you can't dole pitching before series starts. One team happens to be on edge and the other a little off color; one pitcher gets away with a good start and another gets a few bad breaks and there goes all the dope.

Both clubs are popular and while there will be a lot of fans pulling for Connie Mack for old times' sake, the Cubs will have a lot of supporters too. You know the old Cubs are still remembered by a lot of fans.

ONLY 4-2 GAMES SEPARATE FIRST AND FIFTH COAST CLUBS

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 17.—Who's who in the Coast League is as much a matter of dispute today, three weeks from the season's finish, as it was July 2, when the teams lined up for the second half of the split season.

Hollywood's Stars in top place, are 1½ games ahead of the Seals, two games ahead of the Giants, 2½ games better than Los Angeles and 4½ games above the fifth place Portland Ducks. It will take some deep digging in the records to uncover such a baseball windup.

Mathematically, the Ducks are privileged to make eyes at number one position, but the home-stretch gallop is in one between the first three teams with Los Angeles a long shot to catch up.

Since the start of the second half, each of the first five clubs have led the league for a time.

Auburn to Play Abroad.

Although Auburn is centrally located in Alabama only one of the nine games scheduled will be played at home.

Minor Managers Who May Graduate to Majors

NEW YORK, Sept. 17.—This threatened widespread shakeup in big league managerial ranks may be only partly true. If you look at the records you'll see that the Cardinals' pitching was all that was expected. Bob O'Farrell Injured.

WAUKESHA, Ill., Sept. 17.—

Bob O'Farrell, formerly manager of the St. Louis Cardinals and now a catcher for the New York Giants, was expected home today.

His right thumb was broken in a game

Saturday with St. Louis. He will be unable to play again this sea-running-mate at tackle is a loss in itself.

develop a test of strength between the "walkie" and the "tackle."

The Perennial Bill.

THOUGH Tilden may be thought a bit passé, Around the court he seems to know his way.

White he may not be the menace that he used to be in tennis. He is champion of the good old U. S. A.

We know that some wise crack is observed That youth, in sport, insists on being served.

But in spite of that injunction, At most any tennis function, At the head, a seat for William, is reserved.

Though Father Time may swing a wicked scythe, And from the population take his title, With his host he hadn't reckoned When he tackled Bill the Second.

For, from his clutches William seems to write. Doubt Removed.

As between Whichone and Booom, Whichone has proved pretty conclusively which one is the better.

Winning the $105,730 futurity puts Whichone right in the same class with Jack Dempsey and Gene Tunney.

After his brilliant showing at Saratoga it was thought that Booom would win in a jabberwock.

Hi Jack who looked like easy money, in 25-1 ran second after a spirited race.

Spinach had plenty of sand, but failed to land since the kale.

The Spare blew up, or something, and ran last.

Until the world series has been played Mr. Vare of Pennsylvania will take a back seat somewhere outside the United States Senate.

See where it is going to cost $45,000,000 to make a $200 automobile for the mail-order trade.

The musicians in St. Louis have walked out on the talking picture shows. Which is expected to Probably 90 per cent of these get nothing but hard work and hard knocks for their football efforts.

There will be plenty of competition in the backfield. Of the veterans, Clarence Ax and Dick Rawdon have had some experience at Quarterback, but the Freshmen, Anderson, a shock-haired blond from St. Louis High School, is counted on to give Butz a battle for the position. He will weigh about 175 lbs. this year, having gained considerably since he broke up so many varsity plays in practice a year ago.

CORNELL LACKS GOOD MATERIAL, ASSERTS DOBLE

By the Associated Press.
ITHACA, N. Y., Sept. 17.—Any chance Cornell may have of lifting her football team from the mediocrity of the last few seasons to the commanding position of old "Big Red" teams rests entirely with the faculty of the university on the hilltop, in the opinion of Gilmore Doble.

"All I can do," says the coach, "is turn out football teams from material that for the most part hasn't even the ability to be mediocre. Two-thirds of the student body have all they can do to master the problems of engineering, let alone football."

"The only relief for Cornell football can come through the faculty. I have no faith to find with the rigid scholastic requirements of Cornell, but there is nothing I can do about the situation until something is done about the burdens and bars on football men."

"With one more back and good ends I'd have done better last fall instead of losing to Princeton, Dartmouth and Pennsylvania. There is little chance for improvement unless I develop these men this year. Cornell hasn't had a real good back since George Pfann, Eddie Kaw and Cassidy."

"Material is plentiful but lacking in football players. The number of freshman prospects who never reach the varsity because of studies is surprising. Most of my teams are built of former freshman substitutes. They are slow, lack foot-ball instinct. We couldn't stop Penn's passing attack last fall because we couldn't get to the ball carriers fast enough, but because we didn't know passes were coming and where."

There is nothing in the appearance of Cornell's squad to belittle Doble's statements. He has many men but few outstanding. From last season's line, the strongest part of the eleven, he has lost by graduation all regulars but Sam Wakeman, 178-pound captain and tackle. The most hopeful part of the situation is a fair grade of sophomore material and a better class of freshmen for next fall. The graduate "committee of 17" organized to find out what was wrong with Cornell football, has not yet reported publicly.

AMERICAN NET STARS MUST ADOPT FRENCH SYSTEM, TILDEN SAYS

By the Associated Press.

DETROIT, Mich., Sept. 16.—William T. Tilden does not believe the United States will win the Davis cup until the American players adopt the French style of play. Tilden, here for an exhibition match, said that the elimination of errors is necessary before the American players can hope to successfully compete with the French tennis stars.

By elimination of errors, he said was meant the "exchange of strokes until you find your opening to put away the point." To accomplish this our players must build up a well rounded game from the ground up. Few of our leading players today can claim a game without a weak spot."

Tilden said that, although he believed his game was as sound to day as it ever was, there no longer was the thrill in winning that he experienced when he was "coming up."

He said he would continue to play competitive tennis until he was 40, but he never again would represent the United States in Davis cup competition.

Tilden will leave Wednesday for England, where he plans to appear in a stage production.

Macks Buy First Baseman

PORTLAND, Ore., Sept. 17.—Jim Keenan, Portland first baseman and one of the outstanding players of the Pacific Coast League, has been sold to the Philadelphia Athletics for delivery next spring. Portland will receive an unstated amount of cash and one acceptable ex-major league player.

Keenan said he would continue to play competitive tennis until he was 40, but he never again would represent the United States in Davis cup competition.

Tilden will leave Wednesday for England, where he plans to appear in a stage production.

BELL SAVES SCHWARTZ FROM KAYO BY DAVIS IN NON-TITLE BOUT

By the Associated Press.

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Sept. 17.—The bell saved Corporal Izzy Schwartz of New York, claimant of the fly-weight title, from a knockout here last night in a 10-round fight in which Wee Willie Davies of Charleroi, Pa., took the decision in a non-title match.

Schwartz went down for a count of four in the tenth round and when he came back for more,

Davies sent him to the floor again and he remained there until the final bell stopped the fight at the count of seven. Early in the fight, the Charleroi midget suffered a rap that almost closed his left eye.

but the injury only seemed to spur him to greater effort.

Thirty Companies Which
170,000,000 Passengers
Have No Trouble About

Their Rights on the Streets, drawn on Short Notice—
Few With Franchises Charter State Regulation.

By PAUL X. ANDERSON

A Staff Correspondent of THE

NEW YORK, Sept. 14.—Bus transportation scale in New York City, is conducted on the basis of revocable permits granted by the city. It has been demonstrated that franchises are not necessary to obtain the right to operate over routes and service.

Of more than 30 bus companies operating only three have valid franchises. The others cover a route only 4.2 miles long, and the franchise covers a route for a period of only five years. All the others under permits which fix the rate of fare and fee, and can be revoked at instant notice.

Approximately 800 busses are in operation, and they carry about

170,000,000 passengers a year, or

43 per cent as many as are carried by the combined 1,200 cars and buses of the Public Service Co. in St. Louis. Most of the lines never had franchises and have no expectation of obtaining any. They are content with mere permission to operate and to charge a reasonable spective legal status, but actually it is rather simple.

There is one very large concern, the Fifth Avenue Coach Co., and a large number of smaller "independents." The Fifth Avenue operates about 230 busses over a total distance of 32 miles, and carries 70,000,000 passengers a year. The only franchise held by the company is granted by a special act of the Legislature in 1886, and covers a route 4.2 miles long on Fifth avenue, from Washington Square to Eighty-ninth street. All its other routes are operated under permits granted by the city.

There are more than 20 "independent" companies, operating a total of more than 400 busses, and carrying approximately 100,000,000 passengers a year. The number of busses owned by each varies all the way from two to 40. Of the "independents," the Surface Transportation Co., operating busses in the Bronx, and the Tompkins Bus Co., operating routes on Staten Island, have five-year franchises, with the privilege of five-year renewals. A third "paper" company, the Equitable Coach, owns a similar franchise, but financial difficulty has prevented it from operating.

How New York Gained Home Rule Over Bus Service

Granted No Franchises, Only Revocable Permits—City Fixes Fares

Thirty Companies Which Carry 170,000,000 Passengers a Year Have No Trouble About Financing

Their Rights on the Streets May Be Withdrawn on Short Notice—Fare Is 5 Cents—Few With Franchises Charge 10 Cents Under State Regulation.

By PAUL Y. ANDERSON.

NEW YORK, Sept. 14.—Bus transportation existing on a tremendous scale in New York City, is conducted almost entirely on the basis of revocable permits granted by the city. Experience has demonstrated that franchises are not necessary to the successful operation of the lines, and that their effect is to deprive the city of home rule over rates and service.

Of more than 30 bus companies operating in Greater New York, only three have valid franchises. The most important of these covers a route only 4.2 miles long, and the other two were granted for a period of only five years. All the other lines are operated under permits which fix the rate of fare and the conditions of service, and can be revoked at instant notice.

Approximately 800 busses are in operation, and they carry about 170,000,000 passengers a year, or 43 per cent of all those carried by the combined street cars and buses of the Public Service Co. in St. Louis. Most of the lines never had franchises, and have no expectation of obtaining any. They are content with mere permission to operate and to charge a reasonable fare. If any of them have encountered any difficulty in financing themselves because they lacked franchise, the correspondent was unable to discover it. As a matter of fact, the one company that has been prevented from operating through lack of finance is a company that has a franchise.

At first the situation may appear slightly confusing, because of the number of companies and their respective legal status, but actually it is rather simple.

There is one very large concern, the Fifth Avenue Coach Co., and a large number of smaller "independents." The Fifth Avenue operates about 330 busses over a total distance of 32 miles, and carries 70,000,000 passengers a year. The only valid franchise that it owns is granted by the city, and it is the result of a legal act of the Legislature in 1886, and covers a route 4.2 miles long on Fifth avenue, from Washington Square to Eighty-ninth street. All its other routes are operated under permits granted by the city.

There are more than 30 "independent" companies, operating a total of more than 400 busses, and carrying approximately 100,000,000 passengers a year. The number of busses owned by each varies all the way from two to 40. Of the "independents," the Surface Transportation Co., operating busses in the Bronx, and the Tompkins Bus Co., operating routes on Staten Island, have five-year franchises, with the privilege of five-year renewals. A third "paper" company, the Equitable Coach, owns a similar franchise, but financial difficulty has prevented it from operating.

The contrast between the situation of the routes that have franchises and those that have not, is a perfect illustration of the home rule lesson. The rates and service of the routes that have franchises are controlled by the State Transit Commission; the rates and service of those that operate under permits are controlled by the city. On the franchised Fifth avenue route, the fare is 10 cents; on the routes operated under city permits, the fare is 5 cents, except in extended districts, where a zone system prevails.

New York has its full share of transportation troubles. Like Detroit, St. Louis and other large American cities, it has learned that the granting of vested rights in the form of franchises to utility corporations, with the consequent loss of home rule, is at the bottom of most of them. That is why Samuel Untermyer, the noted lawyer who serves as counsel for the city in transportation cases, advises strongly against the granting of franchises, and advocates the granting only of revocable permits or licenses.

Illinois Project.

Extension of 9-foot channels, standard in the great Mississippi system of waterways, will be a chief objective of the Mississippi Valley Association this year, it was announced at the headquarters here.

The aims were outlined by the executive committee for presentation at the convention Nov. 11 and 12 at Hotel Statler, where the year's policies will be formulated.

If adopted by the convention, the standard channels will be brought up for definite action as soon as Congress convenes.

A 9-foot channel was advocated for the Missouri River not only to Kansas City but all the way to Omaha, Neb., and Sioux City, Ia.
Students of river transportation have considered the Missouri one of the best prospects of all inland rivers. A navigable channel would attract tonnage not only from foremost grain-producing states, but from great industrial sections.

Program in South.

Other 9-foot channels were urged for the Tennessee River from Knoxville to its mouth; for the Upper Mississippi from St.
Paul and Minneapolis to St. Louis, and for the Alabama-Coosa River project to give a vast industrial section of Georgia and Alabama access to the sea through the port of Mobile.

The executive committee suggested that the projected 9-foot channel on the Illinois River, which has waited for funds while the Federal Government and the State of Illinois waited on one another in the traditional manner of disorders in Palestine. At the same time he expressed thanks to the British Government for its efforts to restore order among the contending peoples within its man-

JERUSALEM, Sept. 17.—Forty-four Jews have been imprisoned in the citadel of Acre to await trial for murder by premeditated shooting during the recent Arab-Jewish riots which took nearly 200 lives in Palestine.

Complete details are not available,
but the 44 men were arrested in the flour mill at Haifa during the troubles there. Jewish relief workers are sending food to the imprisoned men, who are said to be in good spirits. Their release on bail was refused.

Proposes to League Assembly

VIEW OF BALDWIN REGIME ABANDONED

London Government in Accord With United States on Issue—Other Nations Indicate Approval.

By the Associated Press.
GENEVA, Sept. 17.—The British delegation to the League of Nations Assembly today presented a proposal which is regarded here as marking a great advance in the fight to limit the manufacture of dangerous drugs and to check illegal traffic in narcotics.

The proposals designed to bring about an international agreement for the limitation of production of heroin, morphine and cocaine were regarded as representing a complete reversal by the Labor Government of the late Baldwin Government's attitude on limitation and manufacture.

The new British position was announced to the Assembly's Committee on Humanitarian and Social Questions by Noel Baker, member of Parliament. The Conservative Government had declined to enter negotiations on narcotics, and today's pronouncement was hailed as a great victory by persons interested in the suppression of illicit traffic in narcotics.

Recommendation is that the League Council invite the governments of countries in which narcotics are manufactured to confer as to the possibility of reaching an agreement on the total amount of each of the various forms to be manufactured annually and on the quota of each that these countries should manufacture.

The resolution further suggests that the League's advisory committee on opium continue to study the question and perhaps early next year to propose a limit on the amount of opium to be produced.

Observatore Romano, frequently used by the Vatican for official announcements, defends the Pope's pronouncement, adding neither Italy nor the rest of the world has anything to fear from Catholic youths.

PROFITS FROM CITY SECURITIES TAX-FREE

Court of Appeals Holds Income
Tax on Sales Would Hurt
Borrowing Power.

Profits derived from the private sale of municipal securities are not subject to Federal income tax, the United States Circuit Court of Appeals, sitting here, held yesterday in an opinion written by Presiding Judge Kinniburgh Stone.

The decision was handed down in a Minnesota case involving profit made by Charles W. Bunn in 1924 by the sale of certain county and city bonds which he had purchased for investment in 1919. He paid income tax on the profit, under protest, and sought a refund by court action. The Minnesota court ruled in his favor and the appellate court yesterday affirmed the decision.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE

On Municipal Financing.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

Take for granted that revenue may be raised only from higher general property taxation. After your heroic and successful campaign against the terrible permit, it is hard to criticize your attitude, but let me kindly suggest that you examine municipal finance in Pittsburgh, as well as Boston and Baltimore. If you are going to "wake up" St. Louis, would it be easier to leave the single semi-comatose condition of higher general property taxes, when a little more strenuous arousing would give her the renewed vigor and freshness characteristic of communities where site values rather than improvements bear the brunt of taxation?

Olive street was widened as a relief to traffic. A by-product of this relief has been a considerable increase in the site value of property fronting on the new boulevard. If our system were such that this increase would automatically revert to the community which made the improvement possible, other similar and much needed projects could be considered without increasing the general taxes. As it is, a considerable portion of the revolving fund set aside for street widening had been spent on Olive street and high priced lawyers and witnesses will hock what one another in our crowded courts for five years or so before the owners of the benefited property will pay their share.

That 18-Year-Old Informer.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

THAT a Keeley Institute Alumnus has been equipped by the nine gods with an acute sense of humor is as plain as that pigs do squeal. And the best thing about his wit is that it's the clean kind—funny without being vulgar.

Referring to an article about prohibition by Rev. A. Strauss he says it afforded him a "generous chuckle." Come, come, Keeley Alumnus you don't begin to do yourself credit. Read your last paragraph again relative to "the restoration" of habit-forming liquors and a return of the glass that cheers—and destroys. Then turn back to page 2 of the same issue of the Post-Dispatch and peruse an item beginning: "Testimony of an 18-year-old informer that he purchased liquor and drank it in an alley to get evidence has aroused the ire of Federal Judge Harry B. Anderson and he denounced the incident as a 'disgrace.'" Then, quoting the Judge, "It is a shame for the United States Government to hire boys like this and send them into alleys to drink whisky with burns. It is a disgrace."

Will the fun-loving ex-Keeleyite tell us—since liquor went out with national prohibition and cannot possibly have been "restored"—where this school boy got the stuff?

P. S.

Significance of the Shearer Case. To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

IN giving the Shearer propaganda case prominence in your editorials and cartoons you may stir up something that will make the Dreyfus case in France look insignificant. You are putting a heavy finger on the public cancer and may arouse popular passions to a point where the man on the street will want to know all that is going on behind the scenes.

All of the metal industries and oil interests as well as transportation interests may be involved in this affair if the Shearer investigation is conducted to a logical conclusion. Other Senators than the ones representing states in which shipbuilding interests are located will ask to be excused from committees so that in the end there will be no Senators left to conduct an investigation.

Even the big international bankers upon whom the governments depend to make their peace treaties may become involved. And the policy of governments in forcing and promoting international trade may be brought into the question. The people may even want to learn the real motives underlying freight bureaus and special commodity rates.

In fact there is no telling where investigations will end if the Government ever wakes up to the fact that it has been doing very little of the governing that has been done in this country since the Civil War. Some people will want to know why the Government rents so many of its post offices. Others will want to know why American industrialists have to buy up so much foreign manufacturing property when this Government has a hard time collecting taxes.

The people do not know how serious it is for wading interests to persevere in efforts to promote warfare and it is not right to make them think about things when they are not used to it.

Alton. EUGENE DAVIS.

Transportation on Natural Bridge. To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

UST wonder if the public knows that the Public Service Co. has no transportation facilities at 4209 West Natural Bridge, a major street. Jim wonders if the public knows why the Public Service Co. has not extended service out this street. Because if it did it could not collect double car fare as it now does on the Ferguson car. Still we let them get away with it. Let's get busy and show them that can't continue to put things over on us. If we don't show them, they will show us.

PINE LAWN.

FINANCING THE CITY.

The annual report of the Comptroller, Mr. Nolte, is less important at the moment than the movement initiated by the Municipal Tax Committee of the Chamber of Commerce to increase the revenues of St. Louis.

Mr. Nolte's report is the usual Macedonian cry. He needs more money to finance this great and growing city, and he must perform look outside the City Hall for ways and means to get it. The City Hall has carried taxation under the constitutional limitation as far as it can very well go. The deficit for the last fiscal year was $1,085,645. There have been seven deficits in the last 10 years. Surpluses, always small, have been due to back tax settlements such as that of the banks last year and the mill tax settlement of a few years ago. The city is taking in annually about $1,000,000 less than it is spending, and until its revenues are increased it cannot balance its budget. This is the inevitable consequence of trying to run a modern American city, with its innumerable improvements, upon the income that sufficed before the present age of popular luxury and comfort. Boston and Baltimore, which are almost exactly the size of St. Louis, are spending approximately $70,000,000 a year for maintenance, and we are spending approximately $40,000,000. That difference of approximately $30,000,000 is what is the matter with employees while in jail, as well as whatever fines are assessed.

No modern speakeasy bartender takes a job nowadays without exacting an agreement that he will be "taken care of" if and when he goes to jail. In most instances, after a bartender or porter has been convicted and sent up, the saloon continues operation with a new staff of employees, the owner as usual keeping in the background. Thus the Volstead act has given rise to a new profession, subsidized jailbirds, while the business of bootlegging goes merrily on.

CATS AND CATTERIES.

Tch, tch, the information a person can pick up brawling around the Public Library! Did you ever know there was a magazine devoted to cats? Or even suspect it? It's the Cat Courier. From it we infer that some people are as devoted to cats as others are to dogs; that cat raisers call their places catteries; that cats are subject to nasal catarrh (isn't that the cat's sinus?); that the Texas Cat Club will not hold its kitten match this year, due to the shortage of kittens in Dallas; that cat sires are registered just like thoroughbred dogs and horses; that Mrs. Elizabeth Briscoe, Beverly Cattery, Hyattsville, Md., sold two kittens to Mr. Charles Hall of Edgewood Arsenal and that Mr. Hall is an enthusiastic cat lover, a graduate of George Washington University, and "a very brilliant young man"; that Mrs. Briscoe's lovely black female, Princess Astrid, was run over by an auto in front of her home on the day that Mrs. B. was taken to the hospital for an operation, and that the editor is sure everyone "sympathizes with her in her misfortune" (and why not? Has materialism hardened us to such an extent that—); that Kansas City harbors the Heart of America Cat Club; that Mrs. A. D. Curtis of Ferndale, Mich., in an obituary notice, mourns the passing of her pretty silver female, Lady Arlington.

Ah, lachaday, lachaday! Some of us raise cats. The rest of us only live.

The Senator from Idaho, as usual, has declined to Borah from within.

DEER HUNTING IN MISSOURI.

The man who hires himself forth to take advantage of the three-day deer-hunting season in this State in December, 1932, must be a bookkeeper as well as somewhat of a marksman—and above all he must not be absent-minded.

The State Game and Fish Department deserves commendation for making known three years in advance the complicated rules for killing one buck. First, the hunter must provide himself with a State license and a special deer tag, the latter costing $1.50 if he lives in the State and $50 if from out of the State. Upon killing a deer the hunter must immediately sign his name, give his license number and affix the date to both original and duplicate deer tags. The duplicate must be mailed at once to the State Game and Fish Department. The original tag is ordered attached to the deer carcass, where it shall remain until final consumption, when it must be mailed in to the game officials. Any violation of these rules carries a penalty ranging from a $500 fine to two years' imprisonment.

The Missouri deer hunter's party may not be unlike that of the African lion hunter. The rules conjure up visions of the deer hunter, stalking his quarry, followed in highly colored regalia by special deer-tag bearer, duplicate deer-tag bearer, tag affixer, license exhibitor, fountain-pen slinger and one rural route postman. It should make autumn in Missouri picturesque.

Mr. Ford is not going greatly to impress us with his idea of museum pieces until he acquires the old woodshed behind which his father used to take him.

EARLY AUTUMN IN ST. LOUIS.

These mid-September days are neither summer nor autumn, but present the best features of both. The sun is bright, without uncomfortable heat. Humidity is banished until next year, for summer's backbone is broken. Nights are cool, but not crisp enough to make janitors bestir themselves and fire up the furnaces. The air, which has been tepid and lifeless these many months, now contains a tonic quality which straightens the shoulders and revives the ambition of those who breathe it—and everybody does.

The sky is a clear robin's-egg blue, and its high visibility provides a wide horizon and a more sweeping panorama to the beholder everywhere in the city.

But how long will we enjoy these bright, clear days and this invigorating air? Unfortunately, not long, since this fall and winter are to be like their predecessors. Soon we will pollute the crystalline atmosphere with great clouds of coal smoke. Apartment house, business building and factory will vie in spreading a dull, dingy pall over the city, to clog the lungs and deposit soot where it most annoys the housewife.

This mid-September day was the one when the Ferguson car, still we let them get away with it. Let's get busy and show them that can't continue to put things over on us. If we don't show them, they will show us.

PINE LAWN.

year's time, a most creditable showing, but at the same time St. Louis has superseded Pittsburgh as the smokiest city in the country. With the co-operation of every furnace owner in St. Louis it might be possible to retain through the winter the bracing air of these mid-September days.

SUBSIDIZED JAILBIRDS.

Andy Homoky, 41-year-old Austrian, now serving an 18-month term in Leavenworth penitentiary, confesses he was hired to do so by William L. Probst, former St. Louis policeman and alleged still operator. Probst, it is alleged, had been sentenced to prison on a liquor charge under the alias of Arthur Davis and Homoky was offered $500 to impersonate "Arthur Davis." The deception was discovered when Homoky, an illiterate, was unable to sign his name to a parole affidavit. The original "Davis," Federal officials remembered, could write. While this is a particularly bald instance of substitution, the practice in modified form has become widespread since the advent of the Volstead era. We refer to the system used by speakeasy proprietors in inducing their employees to "take the rap." Hundreds of bartenders and porters are in jail today for violation of the liquor laws, while owners of the saloons in which they were arrested go free. It is customary for owners to pay the salaries of their employees while in jail, as well as whatever fines are assessed.

No modern speakeasy bartender takes a job nowadays without exacting an agreement that he will be "taken care of" if and when he goes to jail. In most instances, after a bartender or porter has been convicted and sent up, the saloon continues operation with a new staff of employees, the owner as usual keeping in the background. Thus the Volstead act has given rise to a new profession, subsidized jailbirds, while the business of bootlegging goes merrily on.

CATS AND CATTERIES.

Tch, tch, the information a person can pick up brawling around the Public Library! Did you ever know there was a magazine devoted to cats? Or even suspect it? It's the Cat Courier. From it we infer that some people are as devoted to cats as others are to dogs; that cat raisers call their places catteries; that cats are subject to nasal catarrh (isn't that the cat's sinus?); that the Texas Cat Club will not hold its kitten match this year, due to the shortage of kittens in Dallas; that cat sires are registered just like thoroughbred dogs and horses; that Mrs. Elizabeth Briscoe, Beverly Cattery, Hyattsville, Md., sold two kittens to Mr. Charles Hall of Edgewood Arsenal and that Mr. Hall is an enthusiastic cat lover, a graduate of George Washington University, and "a very brilliant young man"; that Mrs. Briscoe's lovely black female, Princess Astrid, was run over by an auto in front of her home on the day that Mrs. B. was taken to the hospital for an operation, and that the editor is sure everyone "sympathizes with her in her misfortune" (and why not? Has materialism hardened us to such an extent that—); that Kansas City harbors the Heart of America Cat Club; that Mrs. A. D. Curtis of Ferndale, Mich., in an obituary notice, mourns the passing of her pretty silver female, Lady Arlington.

Ah, lachaday, lachaday! Some of us raise cats. The rest of us only live.

MISS FLORENCE TRUMBULL.

Our favorite fall bride-elect is Miss Florence Trumbull, who is to marry John Coolidge, railway clerk, at Plainview, Conn., next Monday. Plain, in the sense of being free of ostentation, seems to be the keynote of this young woman's character. She might have been married in the White House against a magnificent background of admirals, generals and diplomats, and gone down in history as one of the few White House brides, but she chose the quiet semi-rural atmosphere of her own home town. With due regard for her husband's earnings (isn't it $30 a week the railroad pays him?), she will forego a servant and do her own cooking in the small apartment—which they will occupy. A large part of her trousseau, which is described as "useful," was purchased at her favorite department store in Hartford, Conn. As John's fiancee (and he has been courting her for a long time), Miss Trumbull has been much in the public eye and she has always conducted herself tactfully, simply, gracefully and sensibly. What a relief she is from our Peggy Joyces, Pola Negris and other glittering dames who are forever flaunting their charms on the front page

THE GLORIOUS 26TH IN LIBERIA.

Investigators occasionally have set out to discover, but in vain, what has become of the old-fashioned Fourth of July, with its rousing oratory by exalted Honorable, its patriotic parades and its red lemonade. Flags still are hoisted on our Independence day, it is true, but the populace betakes itself to the picnic ground rather than to the rostrum, where spellbinders once made the eagle scream. We are now prepared to disclose where the old-time celebration has gone. It has removed to Liberia, that thriving Negro republic on the west coast of Africa, whose founders of 82 years ago were inspired by our Constitution and our institutions.

Liberia's natal day is July 26, but the general idea is the same as our July 4. We are indebted to the Maryland Monthly News, published at Cape Palmas, Liberia, for information as to the celebration there. At dawn, says the Monthly News, the populace was awakened by the firing of guns to greet the glorious day. Soon the Nation's flag was unfurled to the breeze at every house (Europeans not excepted). At 10 o'clock there was a parade with officials, foreign residents and native chiefs, escorted by the Fourth Regiment. Then came an oration by the Rev. Dr. William C. Cummings, D.D., K.C., on "Government: Its Mechanism and Principles." Next on the program was Miss Emma J. Peal, a young lady who, in the words of the Monthly News, "recited the Declaration of Independence verbatim et literatim," to which her hearers responded by a "Stentorian salute with handkerchiefs." The acting Superintendent then "addressed the Aborigines Element in befitting words respecting the occasion," through an interpreter, and then came the National Salute of 21 guns. All notables then enjoyed refreshments at the Superintendent's house, and at 6 o'clock "the usual salute" wound up the 26th July's Grand Celebration.

THIRTY TALES AND SKETCHES.
By R. B. Cunningham Graham.
(Viking Press.)

R. B. CUNNINGHAM GRAHAM is a critic characterised as "the boldest, the most original and the most unpopular of British writers." Probably he means to say no more than that he was, or wished to appear, enthusiastic about the man's work and that it had not been sufficiently appreciated. In a day when impudence is commonly mistaken for strength, it is no compliment to call a writer bold, for it is the foolish and the vulgar who are notably the boldest among our writers. Cunningham Graham is original because he is unique, and there are no degrees of uniqueness. He is not popular, but he is widely known among those for whom he writes, and has been for a good many years.

Now and then there come into the world superior intelligences that, although capable of profound "races." The meaning of "inferior races" will be further expanded and enriched by reading the short dissertation on "Success," which begins thus: "Success, which touches nothing that it does not vulgarise, should be its own reward." In fact, rewards of any kind are but vulgarities." As for the deep sympathy and the sensitiveness to all that is beautiful and noble and fine which must come within the word's definition, they are to be found in sketch after sketch throughout the volume—notably in the articles on the deaths of the author's old friends, William Morris and William Seawen Blunt.

Incidentally, it may be said that much prose is not written in our time that is to be found in "This, That and Sketc."

Born in Scotland in 1852, Cunningham Graham was educated at Harrow, and in early youth went to Texas where he worked on the cattle ranches. Much of his young manhood was spent here, in Mexico and particularly in South America, where developed his great love of horses, of the out-of-doors, of a life vigorous and primitive. Later, as a landowner in Scotland, he grew to love the wild old Scottish hills as much as the South American pampas, and both landscapes figure prominently in his writing.

There followed a political career that was brilliant, though which going personal, though which the world could be dark indeed. Such men do not rank; they just are. The family likeness which marks them is a matter of kind and not of degree.

Any one reading and enjoying the sketches here selected by Edward Garnett from the writings of 20 years will know what is meant by the foregoing remarks.

Those who may resent the meaning that has come to be read into the word aristocrat should greatly enlarge the meaning and thereby ease their resentment while broadening over the delicate but nevertheless provocative prefaces.

les devastating ironies to be found in the first sketch, "Niggers." It is a political criticism of the British Empire's dealing with "inferior races."

SCHOOLS AND CIVIC GROUPS MARKING CONSTITUTION WEEK

Movement Sponsored by American Bar Association Praised by President Hoover.

Civic groups and public and parochial schools are conducting instructive and patriotic exercises dealing with the Federal Constitution this week, in accordance with the Constitution Week program of the American Bar Association.

Copies of a letter from President Hoover to Gurney E. Newlin, president of the association, praising the movement to teach the history and purposes of the Constitution, have been distributed to the schools and civic organizations.

Jacob M. Lashay, attorney, will deliver an address at noon today before the Scottish Rite Club. The St. Louis Safety Council will hear an address by F. Dumont Smith of Hutchinson, Kan., chairman of the Citizenship Committee of the American Bar Association, at a dinner at the Hotel Chase. The Lions' Club will be addressed by Deas Isadore Loeb of Washington University at its luncheon at the American Annex Hotel at noon tomorrow.

200 BABIES ARE REGISTERED ON FIRST DAY OF CONTEST

Lions Club to Give Prize for Most Popular as Well as Most Perfect Babes.

More than 200 babies between 6 months and 3 years old were registered yesterday in the baby contest of the Combined Lions' Club, at the contest headquarters, 413 North Eighth street. The contest will close when 1000 babies have been accepted.

J. H. Wishman, chairman of the Lions' Council, announced that in addition to the 10 prizes for the 10 children nearest physical perfection there would be a prize for the most popular baby, determined by vote.

The winners of the baby contest will be announced Oct. 12, at the Lions' ball in the Coliseum. Funds raised through the ball will be used in welfare work for underprivileged and blind children.

METHODIST CONFERENCE OPENS AT DECATUR, ILL.

By the Associated Press.

DECATUR, Ill., Sept. 17.—The 106th session of the Illinois Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church will open here today with about 600 pastors in attendance and Bishop Edgar Blake presiding.

Preliminary conference work consisted of an examination of nine candidates for the ministry this morning, and the annual meeting of the Preachers' Aid Society.

Bishop Blake will open the conference proper tomorrow morning.

The laymen's association will meet Friday and Saturday. Assignment of pastors is scheduled for the business session next Monday morning.

FAILS TO FIND PROOF INDIAN CAME FROM ASIA

Scientist Ends Search for Missing Link in Ancient Villages.

By the Associated Press.

SEATTLE, Wash., Sept. 17.—Ancient Indian villages, buried for centuries, failed this summer to disclose the missing link giving physical proof of the theory of Dr. Ales Hrdlicka, Smithsonian Institution scientist, that the American Indian emigrated from Asia by way of Alaska.

His Middle Western trip, as tentatively arranged, will take him to Detroit, Cincinnati and Louisville. Leaving Washington Oct. 20, he plans to arrive at Detroit in time to attend the dedication of the Edison Laboratory at the nearby Ford plant the next day, and then go to Cincinnati for the opening of the new Ohio River waterway project Oct. 22.

"The definite solution of the origin of the American Indian has not yet been found, as nature has buried the key under thousands of years of reconstruction of Alaska by the action of the rivers and the elements," he said. "It has been a wonderful study and some time, by accident, some one will uncover the key to the problem."

"The Indians came originally from Asia in watercraft. A study of the country demonstrates this. These small tribes migrated down the coast, using water routes, and settled first along the Pacific Coast and worked inland from there. The linking of the past with the present is an arduous task."

Dr. Hrdlicka said the work was a continuation of that carried on by him in 1926 and by others from the Smithsonian Institution since 1882. Its objects were to solve the origin of the Eskimo and his racial relations to the Indian and study the vanishing living fullblooded Dr. Hrdlicka predicted that in less than 20 years there will be no fullblooded Eskimos in Alaska.

During the summer the party traveled more than 1500 miles along the Yukon River hunting for

HOOVER TO SPEAK IN THREE CITIES ON TRIP

Will Start Oct. 20 for Detroit, Cincinnati and Louisville—Plans Texas Visit Later.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 17.—President Hoover is preparing to make one 4-day trip into the Middle West next month and may follow it shortly afterward, if the congressional situation permits, with a visit to Texas.

His Middle Western trip, as tentatively arranged, will take him to Detroit, Cincinnati and Louisville. Leaving Washington Oct. 20, he plans to arrive at Detroit in time to attend the dedication of the Edison Laboratory at the nearby Ford plant the next day, and then go to Cincinnati for the opening of the new Ohio River waterway project Oct. 22.

After the Cincinnati celebration, his tentative itinerary calls for a trip aboard a river steamer through a number of the new Ohio River locks to Louisville. He would speak in all three cities, the address at Louisville being made aboard the steamer on its arrival and broadcast over a nation-wide hook-up.

Plans for the Texas trip have not reached such a definite point, being dependent upon adjournment of Congress later in October or early in November. The President is still hopeful, however, that he will be able to attend the golden purchase celebration at El Paso and visit Dallas, Houston and several other cities in Texas.

SEWER MAIN EXPLOSIONS*KILL ONE AND INJURE MANYDowntown Newburgh, N. Y.
Thrown Into Panic; Fires Follow Blast.

By the Associated Press

NEWBURGH, N. Y., Sept. 17.—A series of explosions in a sewer main here yesterday injured one man fatally and sent 15 others to the hospital, where they remained last night. The explosions threw the sewer section into a panic as plate glass store fronts were shattered and walls crashed.

William S. Greene, who was hurled through a window of the book store he operated and landed on top of an automobile, died later of a fractured skull, fractured jaw and internal injuries. The Greene store felt the main force of the explosions.

Three of the 15 persons in the hospital were seriously injured. Scores of others were treated at the hospital for minor cuts and bruises.

Force of the explosion was felt for several blocks and pedestrians rushed for shelter as bricks and other debris hurtled through the air.

Fire broke out in four stores immediately after the explosions. They were extinguished after firemen had fought them for more than an hour.

Property damage was estimated at more than $150,000.

SUES FOR USE OF HER PICTURE

WOMAN SAYS Doctor Employed It in Book, Wants $20,000.By the Associated Press
KANSAS CITY, Sept. 17.—An actress whose picture had been unsuccessfully used in a book called "The Human Body," Miss Nera Kelly of Warren County, Mo., has filed suit for $20,000 against Dr. Logan Clemenning, Kansas City physician, the author.

How a chance conversation during the course of a bank directors' meeting led to a reunion with his half-brother after a separation of 45 years, was related today by Charles A. Niemeyer, 4584 West Pine boulevard, president of the Niemeyer Paint Co. and a director of the First National Bank.

Niemeyer became aware of his half-brother's whereabouts when John Kennard, president of the Kennard Carpet Co., following a trip into the Yukon, told him of having met him there by name, Louis Schulz, gold-mine operator, owner of a large fur trading post and proprietor of a summer resort hotel at Lake Atlin 100 miles northeast of Nome. Schulz had mentioned that he was born in Lebanon, Ill.

"I was naturally surprised at hearing the name of my half-brother," Niemeyer said. "We had long believed him dead. He left Lebanon 45 years ago to visit an uncle in Carson City, Nev. At that time he was 14 years old.

"It was not long after this that our mother died and I came to St. Louis to live with her. We had heard from Louis again although later I attempted to find him, only to learn that after a few years in Carson City, he had gone to San Francisco where all trace of him was lost."

"Immediately upon learning of his existence from Mr. Kennard, I sent a letter to Schulz. Following the receipt of his answer verifying the fact that he was my half-brother, I went to Lake Atlin with my wife and family. We have just returned from a two-months' visit."

Niemeyer said that after leaving Carson City when he was about 25 years old, Schulz went to San Francisco where he got a job in a packing plant. Eight or ten years later his company decided to open a branch in Nome, Alaska, and he was sent there to take charge.

A few years later he decided to strike out for himself and went to Lake Atlin, which was then a wilderness, where he established a small trading post. From this he branched out into other lines and today his interests in the Yukon are numerous.

FIRE PREVENTION WEEK October 6-12

—It Pays to Observe It

Fire Prevention Week is an occasion of Presidential Proclamation—the Governors of our States also proclaim it. These are indications of its importance and significance to the public.

Communities which have adequately and intelligently observed Fire Prevention Week have profited by substantial reductions in the amount and number of fire losses occurring within that week, and the weeks immediately following.

650 Cities Have Year-round Program

Under the auspices of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, 650 cities are competing in continuous programs of fire prevention and protection. In these cities Fire Prevention Week is an occasion for a fresh yearly start.

Chambers of Commerce and similar bodies realize that the prevention of destruction by fire of an existing industrial plant is just as important as the winning of a new enterprise for the community.

When fire puts men out of work they frequently leave the city or become a community problem such as arises in any locality lacking employment opportunity.

DEVICE TURNS MUSIC INTO MOTION PICTURE

Ribbon of Light From Instrument Has Different Motion for Each Sound.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Sept. 17.—Music was transformed into a ribbon of light and made to write its characteristics on a cloth screen at Steinway Hall yesterday.

When low, pure tones were sounded, the strip rippled smoothly, like wave motion traveling along a rope; but when harsh, discordant sounds were made, the ribbon line writhed and twisted, for all gradations of harmony, the line showed distinctive waves, different for each sound, even down to discrepancies in tone for the ear.

The instrument is a development of the osson, which has been used for some time to photograph voice and music characteristics. The new device substitutes a moving picture for a "still." Its heart is a mirror, vibrating under control of an electrical current from a microphone that picks up the sounds to be pictured. The mirror reflects a beam of light through revolving mirrors. It was developed by William Brad White, acoustic engineer of the Illinois Steel and Wire Co., and C. Anderson, engineer of the Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing Co.

Music students receive a pattern of a perfect sound and attempt to reproduce it in the light.

"One of the things demonstrated," said White, "is that each artist produces patterns as individual as his signature, and though others may be able to imitate these patterns fairly well, apparently no one else can reproduce them exactly."

"Master musicians are interested in studying details of their own techniques. For example, the pianist has learned by these sound-wave photographs that he can produce a single note with at least 18 different gradations, each individual to the conductor's address."

"We are able to show another musician that his finger nails made little clicks when he struck the keys in a certain way, and that this certainly had an effect, however minute, on his playing."

The osson is designed to calibrate the harmony of musical instruments, and detect imperfections whether in tones from wires or strings or reverberations of sounding boards.

82-YEAR-OLD MAN Elopes WITH SISTER-IN-LAW, 69

Kansan Thus Defies Court Order Obtained by Children to Stop Marriage.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

COUNCIL BLUFFS, Ia., Sept. 17.—Defying a court order issued at Marysville, Kan., last week, David DeLair, 82 years old and blind, left his home in Council Bluffs yesterday clowned from Oketo with his sister-in-law, Mrs. Rachel Cameron, 69, of Summerfield and the two were married here yesterday.

The court order followed an attempt by DeLair and Mrs. Cameron to be married at Summerfield, the home of the bride. The two had obtained their license and had appeared before the minister when the Sheriff walked in and took charge of the prospective bridegroom, taking him to Marysville and sending the prospective bride to her home.

At Marysville DeLair was taken before a court and upon petition of children, he was declared incompetent and C. M. DeLair, a nephew, was appointed guardian. The guardian today said he would start proceedings to have the marriage annulled. In the meantime DeLair and his bride are at the home of Mrs. DeLair's nephew, J. J. Murphy, in Omaha.

COURT ACTION FOR REMOVAL OF WISCONSIN GOVERNOR FAILS

Judge Sustains Demurrer on Lack of Jurisdiction and Insufficient Fact.

By the Associated Press.

EAU CLAIRE, Wis., Sept. 17.—Circuit Judge James Wickham today sustained the demurrer of Gov. Walter J. Kohler of Wisconsin to ouster proceedings based on charges of alleged violation of the State corrupt practices act during the gubernatorial campaign. The charges were filed against the Governor by leaders of the Progressive party. Kohler's political opponents alleged he expended amounts in excess of that allowed by State law during his campaign for office.

Judge Wickham ruled that the court had no jurisdiction, and that the complaint did not state facts sufficient to constitute a cause for action. He also held the Wisconsin corrupt practices act was void so far as it purposed to confer a right of removal of the Governor from office.

INSURANCE FIRM OFFICERS SUED

Accounting Demanded of Executives of Old Colony Life of Chicago

By the Associated Press.

CHICAGO, Sept. 17.—A bill for an accounting, charging mismanagement, has been filed in Circuit Court against officers, certain directors and attorneys for the Old Colony Life Insurance Co. of Chicago. Officers directly named are President B. R. Nueske, Treasurer Joseph McCauley and Secretary R. Van Dyke.

The basis for the petition for accounting is the acquisition of some 700 acres of Florida land through foreclosure proceedings against the Polkana Corporation. The plaintiffs are A. W. Rathbun of Glen Ellyn, a director and stockholder, and James H. Crumpe and James H. Benjamin of Chicago, stockholders.

SAYS PRIMARY SCHOOLS NEED MORE MAN TEACHERS

Woman Dean Advocates Fewer Subjects in Curriculum and More Thoroughness.

YOUNGEST CONFEDERATE COLONEL DIES. VICKSBURG, Miss., Sept. 17.—Col. Charles Conway Flowerree, who was the youngest Colonel in the Confederate army, died yesterday. He was 83 years old. SHIRT FACTORY OPENS AT STURGEON. By the Associated Press

STURGEON, Mo., Sept. 16.—The Morrow Shirt Co. began manufacturing shirts here today with 62 employees. The output of the Sturgeson factory will be from 300 to 600 dozen shirts per week.

NEW YORK, Sept. 17.—More male teachers in primary schools, fewer subjects in the curriculum and greater thoroughness in those taught are the outstanding needs of America's educational system in the opinion of Dean Virginia Gildeas of Barnard College.

"There should be just as many man as woman teachers in primary grades, because it's bad to have all the teachers of one sex," she said. "But we do not think and I don't say they teach 'feminizing' their pupils. I don't know what they mean by 'feminizing' any way."

"Women do have a tendency to stress conserving life principles, such as health and peace. Men emphasize competitive ideals. They go in for law and commerce and so on. Young America needs both those points of view to be well balanced and well educated."

"On that ground I think there should be woman teachers in men's colleges. There isn't as much difference between men and women anyway as people are inclined to think."

$1784.59... that's what Iron Fireman saved this St. Louis Hupmobile Dealer last Winter

HOW would you like to save 56 per cent of your fuel bill next winter? That's exactly what the Weber Implement & Automobile Co., St. Louis Hupmobile Dealers, did last winter by installing an Iron Fireman in their heating plant. Even if you made half this saving, wouldn't it be worth your while?

In a recent letter, Mr. George Weber, President of this concern, gives actual figures on fuel cost for the past three heating seasons. The Iron Fireman was installed just prior to the 1928-29 season. "1926-27—$3,281.31; 1927-28—$3,077.77; 1928-29 (Iron Fireman operating)—$1,394.95." Just figure it out for yourself... the Iron Fireman saved $1,784.59 over the average cost of the preceding two winters.

Iron Fireman is making substantial savings for thousands of users in buildings, homes and factories of all kinds. Aggregate savings of users total millions of dollars annually. You can get your share of these savings by installing the Iron Fireman now.

Ask us for full facts—what the Iron Fireman will cost... what it will save. Phone or mail the coupon.

An Iron Fireman annually saves 25 to 50 per cent on the investment because it burns less coal... burns lower-priced coal... saves labor costs... gives steady, even boiler pressure or heat... operates automatically... eliminates smoke... increases plant efficiency.

Well Nourished Children...are the most progressive

Now that the children are back at school again are they physically prepared for the long months of work ahead? While they eat plenty of food, is it the RIGHT food for promoting maximum development?

Good, rich milk bread should be the base of every diet. There is no food produced and ready to eat that can approach it at its cost and meet also the approximate balance of a proper ration.

Bread...as Kroger makes it is the child's best food. A perfect knowledge of the baker's art, plus the finest ingredients...which includes added milk...make it so.

Try a loaf and see with what eagerness everyone eats it.

POLICE CHIEF SHOT TO DEATH

Officer of Florence, Kan., Apparently Killed by Burglars.

FLORENCE, Kan., Sept. 17.—Chief of Police A. J. Eichenberger was slain early today, presumably in a revolver fight with burglars in front of a department store. His slayers, thought to number three, escaped. The door of the store had been jimmied, but the building had not been entered.

FORMER ALDERMAN KOETTKER MADE SECRETARY OF BOARD

Succeeds Frank X. Hardy, Who Died Three Months Ago; Represents Ninth Ward.

Andrew Koettker, former Alderman, was appointed secretary to the Board of Aldermen today by Walter J. G. Neun, president of his board. Koettker succeeds Frank X. Hardy, who died three months ago.

It has been found in a survey by the association that less money is available for relief per family here than in the treasury of any similar organization in cities of 500,000 or more population. The average spent monthly per family receiving relief here was $16.15 in 1928 and the first half of 1929, while the average for nine other metropolitan relief societies in the same time was $24.80.

Workers of the Provident Association who visit families have an average of 42 families each under their care, as compared with 30 elsewhere. The aggregate relief given by all family social agencies here in 1928 was $322,156, or an average of 38 cents per capita of the whole population. In only one of 20 other cities for which corresponding data was obtained—New Orleans, La.—was the per capita smaller. In St. Paul, Minn., it was $1.16; in Detroit, Mich., $1.44; and in Chicago 84 cents.

Being a member of the Community Fund, the Provident Association is not permitted to make an independent solicitation of funds. However, its officers have issued a public appeal for a generous response to the annual Community Fund campaign next December.

It will be impossible for the as-

Negro Gets Five Years for Robbery

Fletcher Williams, 26 years old, a Negro chauffeur of 1615 Morgan street, was sentenced to five years in the penitentiary yesterday when he was found guilty of first-degree robbery by a jury in Judge Calhoun's court. Williams was accused of robbing Charles E. Holub, 1811A south Twelfth street, of his automobile, jewelry and fountain pen the night of July 20 last.

OWENSBORO, Ky., Sept. 17.—Seven men accused of active participation in a mob attack on a Federal prohibition agent and two undercover men in which two prisoners were released, are in jail here today under $5000 bonds. Three other men were held on other charges growing out of the attack, which took place Sunday near Central City.

The Federal agent, Pat Sullivan, Louisville, reported that he and the two undercover men, John Dauphin and John Brown, were attacked by 150 persons as they arrested Robert Mason, 25 years old, and Owen Boone, 25, at the Hollywood roadhouse, two miles from Central City, center of a coal mining region.

The mob released the prisoners, disabled the motor of the Federal men's automobile, and slashed the tires. Sullivan was cut on the head with a bottle and the other two were beaten.

The arrests of the alleged attack leaders and others were made by United States Marshal James Bales and Chief Prohibition Inspector E. A. Larkin and three prohibition agents from Louisville. They brought the 15 here for a hearing before Commissioner Arthur D. Kirk. None was able to make bail last night.

Federal officers said they expected to make 20 or more arrests altogether, and to clean up Central City.

Those held were Kenneth Ashby, Joe Mahan, Talmage Ellis, Carl Quisenberry, William Powell, Pascal Powell, John Tucker, Raymond Edwards, and A. O. McQuirk.

On a charge of violating Federal prohibition laws, Robert Burney, Owen Boone and Robert Mason were held on $1000 bonds.

By the Associated Press.

Holland was traced by a letter he wrote to his wife, who is in jail in New Martinsville, W. Va., in connection with 50 robberies Ohio River communities for which her husband and son, George Holland and Homer Cologne escaped from an automobile while on the way from Portsmouth, O., where they were arrested, to New Martinsville. Cologne has not been re-captured.

DETROIT, Mich., Sept. 17.—A 40-foot double cabin cruiser with a cargo of 500 cases of beer and 100 cases of whisky was seized by Federal immigration border patrol inspectors yesterday in the canal leading from Brest Bay in Lake Erie, to the village of Brest.

The cruiser was aground in the canal when sighted by the inspectors.

The officers, Charles Green and Fred McKinley, started for the craft in a rowboat.

As they approached, they said, a speed boat occupied by three men opened fire on them and the wash of the faster craft overturned the rowboat.

Green and McKinley waded in water shoulder deep the rest of the way and boarded the cruiser.

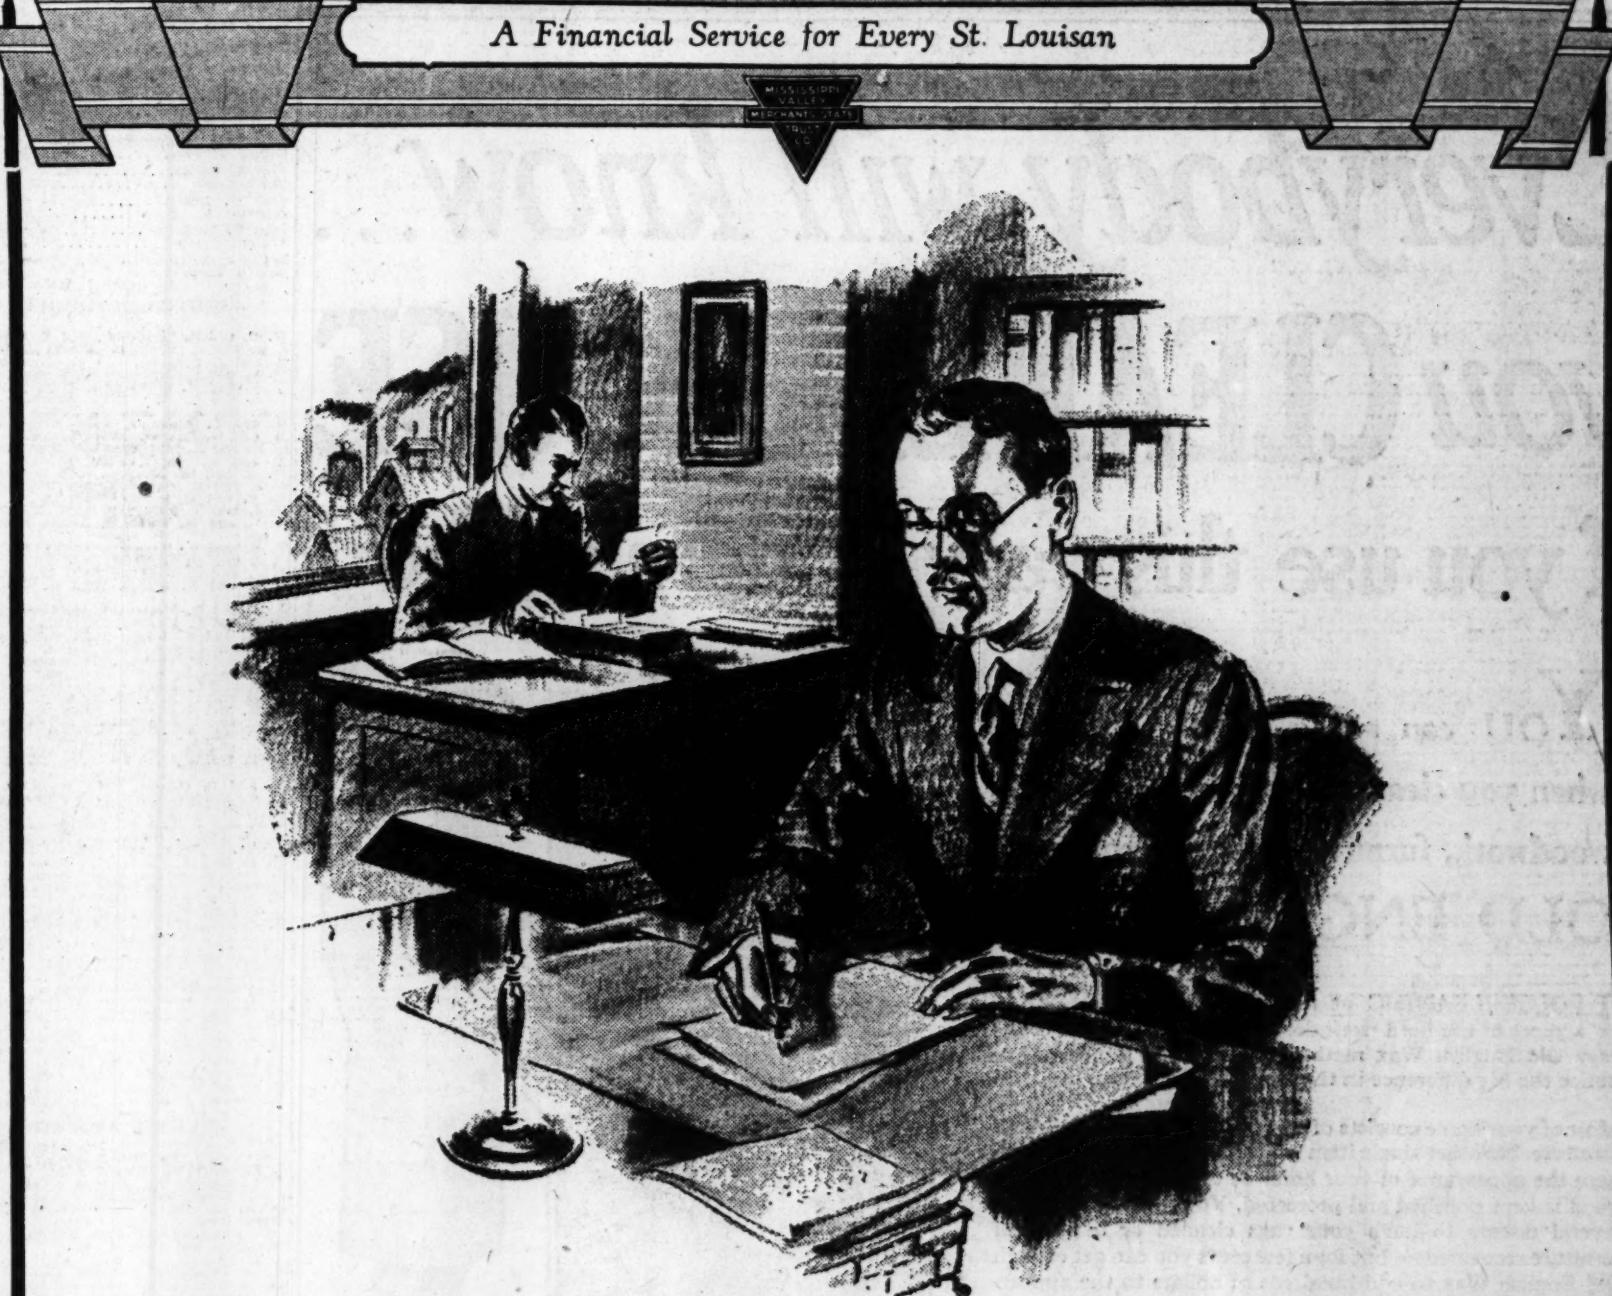

The speed boat continued to circulate the craft and several shots were fired in an apparent attempt to frighten the inspectors.

The inspectors, who said they recognized the men, added that no shots were fired directly at them.

PERHAPS a certain percentage of your annual income is derived from accumulated property and might be expected to continue in the event of your death.

C But no doubt the principal funds upon which you and your family depend are derived from your daily pursuits—your salary, or income from your profession or business.

C If deprived of this, would your dependents have sufficient income? If not, life insurance is the one logical solution of the problem.

C But even substantial life insurance does not in itself guarantee that your family will receive a lasting income, nor does leaving to them your own accumulations of property insure that they will enjoy lasting benefits.

C The practical solution is to create a trust, both of your estate and of your life insurance. With an institution such as the Mississippi Valley Merchants State Trust Company to invest and conserve your property and insurance, you may feel sure that your family will have sufficient income after your personal earnings cease.

INCREASE IN STEEL AND EQUIPMENT ORDERS

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Sept. 17.—A marked increase in steel and equipment orders by railroads over the buying done during the past few weeks was seen today when it was announced that one railroad had ordered more than 60,000 tons of steel rails and fittings, while another large carrier was in the market for several thousand freight cars.

The Union Pacific Railroad today placed an order for 45,000 tons of rails and 15,000 tons of fittings to cost about $400,000. The order was placed with the United States Steel Corporation, Inland Steel Corporation and the Colorado Fuel and Iron Co.

Further inquiry was issued by the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe Railroad for nearly 6,000 freight cars, which is expected to be the forerunner of orders totaling about 16,000 cars.

Purchase of the freight cars by the Santa Fe would involve about 15,000 tons of steel and an expenditure of about $15,000,000.

ST. LOUIS STOCK EXCHANGE
Sept. 17.—National Candy closed fractionally higher today than it had ever of 1600 shares which had been traded one 500-share lot. International Shoe finished with small loss. Pickrel Wm. cut closed better and did Lacled Steel and Landis Machine.

American Investment "B", Consolidated Lead, Ely-Walker, Merantile-Commerce and Moloney Electric showed recessions.

Wagner Electric closed unchanged, Corro Hills also being unaltered.

Investment Trusts

By the Associated Press.
NEW YORK, Sept. 17.—Stockholders of National Investment Corporation, the investment trust whose common shares rose about $300 each from its original split-up, voted to approve a six-for-one stock split.

A special meeting on Sept. 28, at which the corporation's authority is also to be asked to increase its capitalization to $2,000,000 per share from $200,000. It is proposed to offer a new share for each share of the 5% per cent preferred.

Forty thousand shares of National were common were admitted to trading on the New York Stock Exchange late yesterday. The stock rose rapidly to the price of $301.75, making about 100 points of that gain in a few days, a week ago during a few days' trading. It then fell to $330, from which it rallied moderately.

SAYS BOOKMAKERS GOT
MOST OF HIS RECEIPTS

Bankrupt Restaurant Man Asked to Explain About $1000-a-Month Income.

Adolph Burger, restaurant owner and former saloon keeper, who has been in business at 1657 South Jefferson avenue for 14 years, was asked in Bankruptcy Court yesterday to explain how he had spent monthly receipts which he said averaged about $1000.

"Did you invest the money?" asked Referee Coles.

"Yes, but I got no returns. The books got most of it."

Burger hastened to add that he had not gambled since he had quit "gambling" more than a year ago, and his receipts had dropped from a daily average of $75 to $35.

Referee Coles advised him he need not explain the change that came over his business at that time.

Burger said that after he quit gambling, overhead expenses took all the money.

"But your schedules show you neglected to pay a great part of your overhead in recent months; you owe tradesmen and your help."

"I had good help, all right. They helped themselves," Burger responded. "The liveryman, the fish man, the grocer, and the butcher got the money. I couldn't give that place of mine away."

Royal Coburn, trustee, then inquired about a number of personal loans of which Burger said he had no written record. Burger said he borrowed money from a bookmaker and used it to pay bills.

Burger filed a voluntary bankruptcy petition July 23, listing debts of $4710 and assets of $1315, including $1000 stock in trade. The case was continued to permit Coburn to examine Burger's business records.

Government to Have 2,000,000 Gallons Distilled for Medicinal Use.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
WASHINGTON, Sept. 17.—The Government is about ready to go into the business of manufacturing medicinal liquor.

Fourteen distilleries have applied for permits, it became known today. About six will receive licenses and the 2,000,000 gallons to be produced will be allocated among them. The permit holders will be scattered over the country to cut down transportation and thus reduce the chance of diversion of the whisky to illegal purposes.

Dr. James M. Doran, Prohibition Commissioner, explained that with normal barrel soaking and evaporation the 2,000,000 gallons "will age out, at the end of a four-year period, to between 1,600,000 and 1,700,000 gallons," approximately the annual requirement. The amount to be manufactured in ensuing years must be determined by the factors before the Commissioner at the time.

Investigators are looking into the qualifications and records of applicants for permits and will submit reports to Doran within the next few days.

Some 6 per cent of the whisky to be produced will be bourbon and 30 per cent rye. Approximately 70,000 physicians are licensed to issue liquor prescriptions.

The present supply of medicinal whisky is about 9,500,000 gallons. That represents 15,127,380 gallons originally placed in warehouses. By Jan. 1, before which time manufacture is expected to begin, Doran estimated that the liquor stock would be 8,440,555 gallons, which at the normal rate of consumption would be sufficient for four years.

The withdrawal of whisky for medicinal purposes has been about 1,600,000 gallons annually in recent years and according to information from the trade and professions, the rate will not change materially in the next four years.

SAYS BOOKMAKERS GOT 14 SEEK JOB OF MAKING
MOST OF HIS RECEIPTS

Bankrupt Restaurant Man Asked to Explain About $1000-a-Month Income.

Adolph Burger, restaurant owner and former saloon keeper, who has been in business at 1657 South Jefferson avenue for 14 years, was asked in Bankruptcy Court yesterday to explain how he had spent monthly receipts which he said averaged about $1000.

"Did you invest the money?" asked Referee Coles.

"Yes, but I got no returns. The books got most of it."

Burger hastened to add that he had not gambled since he had quit "cheating," more than a year ago, and his receipts had dropped from a daily average of $75 to $35. Referee Coles advised him he need not explain the change that came over his business at that time.

Burger said that after he quit gambling, overhead expenses took all the money.

"But your schedules show you neglected to pay a great part of your overhead in recent months; you owe tradesmen and your help."

"I had good help, all right. They helped themselves," Burger responded. "The iceman, the fisherman, the grocer, and the butcher got the money. I couldn't give that place of mine away."

Royal Coburn, trustee, then inquired about a number of personal items of which Burger said he had no written record. Burger said he borrowed money from a bookmaker and used it to pay bills.

Burger filed a voluntary bankruptcy petition July 23, listing debts of $4710 and assets of $1315, including $1000 stock in trade. The case was continued to permit Coburn to examine Burger's business records.

Government to Have 2,000,000 Gallons Distilled for Medicinal Use.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
WASHINGTON, Sept. 17.—The Government is about ready to go into the business of manufacturing medicinal liquor.

Fourteen distilleries have applied for permits, it became known today. About six will receive licenses and the 2,000,000 gallons to be produced will be allocated among them. The permit holders will be scattered over the country to cut down transportation and thus reduce the chances of the diversion of the whisky to illegal purposes.

Dr. James M. Doran, Prohibition Commissioner, explained that with normal barrel soaking and evaporation the 2,000,000 gallons "will age out, at the end of a four-year period, to between 1,600,000 and 1,700,000 gallons, approximately the required amount. The amount to be manufactured in ensuing years must be determined by the factors before the Commissioner at that time.

Investigators are looking into the qualifications and records of applicants for permits and will submit reports to Doran within the next few days.

Seventy per cent of the whisky to be produced will be bourbon and 30 per cent rye. Approximately 70,000 physicians are licensed to issue liquor prescriptions.

The present supply of medicinal whisky is about 9,000,000 gallons. That represents 15,127,380 gallons of whisky in bonded warehouses. By Jan. 1, before which time manufacture is expected to begin, Doran estimated that the liquor stock would be $440,555 gallons, which at the normal rate of consumption would be sufficient for four years.

The withdrawal of whisky for medicinal purposes has been about 1,600,000 gallons annually in recent years and according to information from the trade and professions, the rate will not change materially in the next four years.

THE MAKE-BELIEVE WIFE

—By Kathleen Norris
A Romance of Modern Life

CHAPTER 23. If he should think that we two—his wife and his son—it would be too horrible to think about!" Bee whispered.

"Well, of course it would be, dear! And he never will think about it." Bert said, eagerly, "because—I tell you—I'm not going to make you unhappy, and myself unhappy, any more. It just came over me, a few weeks ago—and knocked me sort of flat, did you see?—and I've been getting my breath. Why, Bee, there's no rest in that!" Bee flushed on.

"It's only that I didn't realize it—didn't know what was the matter with me until that night when I came and stood under your window here, and thought about it. And it's going to make me happy, and you too, you'll see if it doesn't! I'm not going to let it get you anxious and nervous, because it's all OVER—and long before it gets bad again I'll take myself off, and you'll never know it! I had to say this to you, you poor darling; you've been looking so scared and guilty about it. And it's not your fault at all, and nothing—notting's happened, except that you know now how much I—how much I think of you, and that you've done the one thing in the world my father really wanted—I mean made me wake up and want to stand on my own feet!"

"Bee, Bert, how could we let it happen? We shouldn't even say that much, even think about it!" she said distressedly. "If he should ever question me—if he ever suspected it—what could I say? If he should ask me if you liked me, and I had ever said so—it would kill him!" Beatrice said, beginning to get excited, "For I couldn't deny it."

"Bee, listen," Bert interrupted soothingly. "There's no need for you to work yourself up this way. Nothing's happened except, as I say, that I made a fool of myself. It's all right, and Dad's all right, and you can't anything wrong with him—he's a good deal more upset right now over his plan than any of us, I'm sure," Bert said, in the fond, amusèd tone of a big brother. "You mustn't let yourself get worked up like this!"

"And you'll promise me?" she said, in a whisper, her eyes fixed on his—"you'll promise me that you won't—think about it—any more?"

But he had held her hands just a moment too long, and been close to her, slim and confiding and disturbed, just a moment too long. The expression of his face changed, and he said, a little brokenly:

"Oh, Bee, you're so sweet—you're the sweetest thing in the world!"

"You mustn't—you mustn't!" she whispered in terror. And a second later she had wrung her hands free and had run upstairs.

Strange days for them all followed, while the futile search for the lost plans went on and the cottages at Spy Lake were closed for the season one by one, the air grew clearer and thinner and the leaves began to turn.

Outwardly everything was as before, with the three Challengers, Hugh and Beatrice opened the town house, and a more formal type of living began. Bert they saw only at infrequent intervals; he was not working, he talked restlessly of the West, of going to New York, of wishing he might return to Paris. He was more serious than he had been, not so gay, not so noisy; his grandmother observed with satisfaction that the boy had cut his wisdom teeth.

Outwardly everything was as before, but inwardly there was this great change in Bert, and there were changes to correspond in Hugh and Beatrice too.

Hugh always had been quiet, but he was actually grave now, and when he spoke or smiled it was with a perfectly visible effort. To Beatrice his manner was only a little more kind, more gentle, than it had been before, but somehow it made her feel, and with a heart-sick sense of helplessness, that he was infinitely remote, that there were infinite distances between them.

No use pretending that nothing was wrong—everything was wrong. Hugh was oppressed and silent. Bert gravitated between moods of the wildest exhilaration and periods of bitter despair; she could never be sure of herself for a second; she laughed, she cried, she pondered aimlessly. Day after day she determined that she would summon up courage enough to be honest with Hugh about it; that she would somehow falter out the words she was afraid to say:

"Don't be cold to me, Hugh! I'm working out my way—I'm doing the best I can! Just give me a little time—"

She was not fit to cope with the problems life was bringing her; it was all too confusing, too subtle for her 22-year-old heart and hands.

One afternoon Hugh came home at about 4 o'clock and found her upstairs in her own sitting-room, crying. She sat up suddenly when Hugh came strutting into the dim twilight of the room, her voice thick and strained.

"Hugh?"

"Yes, dear! What is it? Why, what?" — Hugh asked concernedly and gently, sitting down beside her and looking at her swollen eyes and her pitiable attempt at a smile. "What's the matter, Bee?"

For a few dreadful minutes she could only hold his hand tightly and gulp, in a desperate effort to afterward.

What It Means to Be President

By Calvin Coolidge

No Need of Theatricals for Occupant of White House

"MUCH detail is involved in any journey of the President. One or two secret service men must go to the destination several days in advance." Here is President Coolidge in a group as they returned from a bird hunt. In the group is Col. Starling, secret service man.

ARTICLE THREE.

S he is the head of the Government charged with making appointments, and clothed with the executive power, the "No! That was the form of war," he said philosophically. "It still worries me," Hugh added, "not to know anything about it. It was no accident, that plain. And if it wasn't an accident—?"

"But Hugh—but Hugh, something is the matter; I mean with all of us lately, all the time!" she persisted.

Behind the Screens

The Latest News and Gossip of the Film Actors in Hollywood appears in the Daily Magazine of the Post-Dispatch Every Tuesday and Thursday and in the Sunday Drama Section.

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 17.—ON CHANEY of the "thousand faces" seen may have a rival in the person of Paul Muni, who in his second movie is under contract modestly to year only

More he will have seven weeks to round out the clear-cut roles of all the various roles he assumes in the picture.

For one essaying thus a seven-old character, Muni apparently began his stage career by playing an old man part at the age of 11. His parents, according to some needed some to play the old man in their play, and with none other available, the boy was made up and carried the role nobly.

His first talkie was a "straight" one that of "The Valiant." But now that he did not play it straight for "I should be a failure if ever I tried to be myself while acting," he says.

Seven Men in One.

IN "Seven Faces" Muni is portraying many characters. One of them is real, that of an old reinker in a museum. The other, museum statues which come to life in a dream, are Nelson, Svengali, Joe Gans, Negro middleweight champion; Don Juan, Frank Schubert (Muni's accomplished musician) and old Cockney.

With the aid of Jack Dawn, make-up artist, Muni has been trying and experimenting to achieve life-like characterizations of all. He has had a case made in his own face, so that on it he may try the effect of various make-ups. On it he molds facial characteristics as a sculptor would. He may build other faces than his own if I am recognizable under the make-up, then I am bankrupt," he declares.

But far more than on make-up relies on "straight" to build his characters, projecting himself into the soul of the person portrayed.

A Transplanting.

CHARLES (BUDDY) ROGERS still may be, as his press agents would say, the "same unsupplied boy" he was when he came to Hollywood three years ago. But his parents, at least, are "going Hollywood" in a big way.

Buddy, free for a while before beginning a new talkie, is using the time in preparing a home and welcome for his parents who, after residing 60 years in Olathe, Kan., his birthplace, are transplanting themselves to the city where their son made his movie fame.

Father Rogers is selling the Kansas home, the farm and even his little newspaper, and they are all coming here to live in the nearby hills. All but Bl. Buddy's kid brother, whom Buddy won't allow to come just yet.

"I want him to finish three years at least in college," says Buddy with a rather big-brotherly air, "and to take a boat trip or two before he comes here."

Bl. is rather eager to come, from all reports, but Buddy himself once rode a mule ship to Europe, and may consider that good schooling for Hollywoodian perils.

It Happened.

A STORY that sounds like a a press agent's dream is told by George Jessel, who awoke and decides it isn't.

It began in a little New Jersey town 18 years ago. Jessel, aged 10, and Gus Edwards, his vaudeville "boss," were walking along the street, with little George kicking about the "girl I have to sing to" in this act. It seemed she didn't pay much attention when he sang, and George wasn't inspired to do his best. Gus replied in sarcasm:

"If you want to pick your leading lady already, hush! Well, let's see you do it?" "How about that little girl over there?" said George promptly.

He pointed to a pretty child with big dark eyes who was playing with a doll on a porch. Gus was impressed. Ere long the pretty girl became George's leading lady, and as "Cuddles" she played opposite George in various Edwards vaudeville acts for several years. When Jessel eventually left Gus to try his stage luck alone, the girl stayed on. Then she came to Hollywood and entered the movies.

Recently when Jessel was considering suggestions as to a leading lady for a new starring talkie, none seemed to suit him despite what they told him to pick his own. George sent for "Cuddles."

And it was Lila Lee, now grown up, who came.

The territorial government and the United States biological survey have united to reduce the annual $1,000,000 loss caused by predatory animals in Alaska.

WALL STREET ADVANCE OF 50 POINTS IN SOLVENTS

Stock Market in Series of Bullish Demonstrations—U. S. Steel Up 10 1/2 Points to 244 1/2.

INDEPENDENT STEELS ALSO RANGE HIGHER

Upturn in Stocks Is in Face of Rise in Call Money Rate to 10 Per Cent—B. & O. on $7 Basis.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Sept. 18.—Call money went from 9 to 10 per cent again today but the stock market, acting on the theory that the credit stringency was only temporary, indulged in a series of bullish demonstrations which lifted the general level of prices above yesterday's final quotations, and carried nearly a score issues up 10 to nearly 50 points.

U. S. Steel common returned to its old role as market leader by showing a net gain of 10 1/2 points at 244 1/2, after having sold slightly below that figure. The market which registered a market appreciation of more than $55,000,000 in the outstanding capital stock, took place in the face of reports of a further curtailment of steel output. Independent steels rallied in sympathy. Bethlehem, Republic and Youngstown closing 2 to 3 points higher.

One of the most interesting developments of the day was the announcement, after the close of the market, that the annual dividend on Baltimore & Ohio common stock had been raised from $6 to $7 a share.

Trade news was mixed in character. Weekly steel trade reviews reported further recession in output, bringing it about in line with the rate at this period last year, but pointed out that there had been a marked increase in railroad buying. Car loadings in the first week of September fell below the previous week, due to the observance of the Labor day holiday, but were nearly 3 per cent above the corresponding week last year.

Commercial Solvents Up 50 Points. Commercial Solvents was the spectacular individual feature, soaring more than 50 points to a new high record at $61, which contrasts with the year's low at 225 1/4, and retaining all but about seven points of its gain. Auburn Auto ran up 33 points to a new high at $14, closing at the top. Foster Wheeler preferred jumped 26 points to a new peak at 20 1/4, and the common ran up nearly eight points to a new high at 81 1/8, but lost part of its gain. Columbian Carbon jumped 15 points to a new high at 240, or nearly double the year's low.

American Telephone, which was heavily bought, touched a new high record at 307 1/2 and then eased to 304 for a net gain of 9 1/2 points. Final quotations also disclosed a rather long list of net declines, conspicuous among these was General Electric, which closed more than 3 points lower at 372, or 21 points below its recent high. J. L. Case dropped off 10 points to 301.

Granby Increases Dividend. Granby shares came in for a revival of attention following the announcement of the increase in the Granby Consolidated dividend to $8 basis from the $7 rate in effect heretofore. The action had been expected, but it served nevertheless to give a fillip to the buying movement in the metal group. N. L. Amater, head of the company, called attention to its strong cash position, and to the fact that its program of capital expenditures had been completed, thus releasing earnings for dividends on the capital stock. The rate was raised from $6 to $7 in March and a year ago was $4 a share annually.

Time money displayed a somewhat firmer undertone, with all maturities quoted on 9 per cent basis.

Except for a jump of 28 points in Japanese yen to 47.45 cents, there were no changes of importance in the foreign exchange market. Sterling cables held fairly steady around $4.84 1/2. Withdrawal of slightly more than $1,000,000 in gold bars from the Bank of England today was reported to be for the account of the French interests.

Cotton closed unchanged to 40 cents a bale lower. Wheat declined fractionally. Corn also sold off lightly.

Closing stock prices, with other tables and market news, will be found on Pages 28, 39, 40 and 41.
